Act Reducing Alberta Interest Barred By Court

Justice A. F. Ewing Rules Foresters' Order to Collect $5,400

Second Action In That Field

EDMONTON (CP)—An act reducing by 50 per cent interest on provincial guaranteed securities and other requiring consent of Lieutenant-Governor-in-council to bring court action collect the full amount of interest, in so far as it affected the question before court, were declared void by the Alberta Supreme Court.

Justice Ewing awarded the independent Order of Foresters writ of execution to collect $5,400 in interest charges from the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation District, whose bond interest had been reduced through the act.

This was the second action in the Foresters' suit for interest rates. On the occasion, in February, 1937, Justice W. C. Ives ruled the original interest reducing legislation ultra vires and awarded Foresters $5,400 in interest.

ON IN 1936 The original interest reduction of 50 per cent was ordered by order-in-council in June, 1936, effective as from June 1, 1936. The order-in-council was validly by legislation at the special session of the Alberta Legislature in August, 1936.

It had been declared in return to Page 2, Col. 4.

TO SIT IN ON ALBERTA CASE

B.C. to Be Represented at Hearing on Disallowance

British Columbia will be represented at the Supreme Court of Canada hearings on the disallowance of Alberta legislation by counsel holding a watching brief, Premier Pattullo said today.

The B.C. counsel will not enter arguments, but will follow the issue. The Premier said counsel had not yet been chosen.

The Supreme Court will decide whether the Dominion Government has powers of disallowance over provincial legislation. Since this affects all provinces, they have been invited to send counsel.

The Premier said that in view of the constitutional importance of the case he felt British Columbia should be represented.

MOTORS DIVIDEND NEW YORK (AP)—Directors of the General Motors Corporation today declared a dividend of $1.50 on the common stock, or 50 cents more than the previous disbursement.

Premier Plans Canada Trip Will Meet All Provincial Heads to Discuss National Problems

Premier Pattullo disclosed today he plans to make a trip next spring across Canada to visit all provincial capitals and meet heads of the different provincial governments.

The Premier said he believed that with the important constitutional conferences coming up after the Rowell commission reports a thorough understanding of each other's problems is required by the provincial heads.

Mr. Pattullo has not visited the maritimes and intends to go right across Canada to Prince Edward Island.

The Premier has previously invited other provincial premiers to come to the coast, not only to discuss matters of common interest but to explore the potentialities of British Columbia.

Labor Of B.C. Will Ask Government For Legal Union Rights

Not Favorable To Labor Bill

Representatives of an estimated 25,000 British Columbia workers, men and women, will meet the provincial cabinet tomorrow morning and ask it to adopt "an act to recognize in law the rights of employees to organize for the furtherance of their lawful interests," and submit it to the Legislature as a government measure.

This was unanimously decided at the week-end convention of labor, held in the Foresters' Hall. It marked the first time in 17 years that the trade unions of the province had met in convention for the purpose of dealing strictly with provincial matters. There were 127 delegates from 90 unions at the gathering, which met all day Saturday and Sunday morning.

The bill which the cabinet will be asked to adopt has already been made law in Nova Scotia and Manitoba. It was prepared by the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress.

COMMITTEE NAMED A committee of five was elected by the convention to act with the provincial executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in presenting the bill to the government tomorrow.

The meeting is set for 10.30 a.m. Those named by the convention were Edward A. Jamieson, president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, who was chairman at the convention; W. S. Atkinson of Nanaimo, United Mine Workers; Charles Chivers, carpenter, Victoria; W. H. Youhill, president of the B.C. C.F. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

However, if the government declines to introduce the bill as a government measure, the C.C.F. intends to put it before the House, it is said in the legislative corridors.

In either event the measure will come up this session.

Campbell Quits Racing of Autos

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Alfred Poyser, Sir Malcolm Campbell's mechanic, said here today the British speed driver "is through with auto racing" and plans to concentrate on hydroplane records.

"Whether his record of 301.1292 miles an hour is broken or not, he's through with auto racing," said Poyser, here to assist Capt. George E. T. Eyston, countryman of Sir Malcolm, in an attempt on the record Campbell set here in 1936.

Poyser believes Capt. Eyston's Thunderbolt is a "much faster car" than Sir Malcolm's Bluebird.

Chocolate Shop Haul Is $300

Thieves Take Money From Stevenson's Safe Without Damaging It

Thieves who were apparently thoroughly familiar with the premises, robbed Stevenson's Chocolate Shop, Yates Street, of more than $300 over the week-end.

The money was removed from the safe, which showed no outward signs of having been tampered with.

According to a city police report the back door of the shop was found open at 6.10 this morning by Constable Alex Briggs, while on patrol duty. After police notified H. S. Stevenson, the proprietor, the premises were boarded up.

When further investigation was made this morning it was discovered the safe had been opened. William Ostler, fingerprint expert of the department, was engaged this morning in looking for traces left by the intruders.

Two attempted entries were also reported over the week-end. At Scourah's on Yates Street, thieves forced the basement door, got through a trap door to the rear door of the store, but failed to open the door after breaking a window panel.

Early this morning it was reported the panel of the office door of the Hillcrest Lumber Company office, 1936 Government Street, was broken, but entry was not made.

More Warcraft To Mediterranean

Eden Indicates Moves As Result of Sinking of British Ss. Jean Weems

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today the government had lodged a strong protest with the Spanish insurgent authorities over the sinking of the British merchantman Jean Weems.

As the battle cruiser Hood sped from Mallorca to Barcelona to investigate the defiance of the Nyon anti-piracy accord, Mr. Eden indicated Anglo-French Mediterranean reinforcements might be made as a result of the Jean Weems bombing.

The insurgents, he said, "have undertaken at once to make a most searching inquiry" to fix the responsibility for the incident.

The Hood steamed toward the Catalan coast from Mallorca, where she was ordered only last week.

Her officers were instructed to interview the crew of the Jean (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Explosives Cause Hallowe'en Havoc

Detonator Caps Damage Many Windows and Alarm Residents

Police in Victoria, Saanich and Esquimalt, over the week-end combined in an intensive search, without success, for a gang of youths who created excitement on Hallowe'en night by exploding detonator caps.

In 15 homes in Victoria, Saanich and Esquimalt, windows were blown in by explosions, which, in some instances, shook things on shelves. Residents in the immediate vicinity of the explosions were alarmed.

The most serious of these explosions was on Ellery Street, Esquimalt, about half an hour before midnight, Saturday. The shock broke about 10 windows in six homes in the immediate neighborhood.

In Saanich, Chief Allan Rankin reported the youths set off about five of the caps with varying damage. The most serious was on Harriett Road, where five windows were broken in the home of a Hindu, and two windows in a house next door.

CAP IS FOUND

One of the caps which was apparently set by the gang was turned over to Saanich police after falling to explode. The caps had several inches of fuse attached to allow the miscreants time to get away. Police investigated a report that three youths in a touring car were responsible for the acts.

The only explosion of this type in the city was one near the home (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Tension Grows In Shanghai

British Troops Refuse to Move as Japanese Attack Chinese

SHANGHAI (AP)—Major-General A. P. D. Telfer-Smollett, commander of the British troops at Shanghai, Monday refused to withdraw British troops from defence posts near Chinese machine-gun nests which Japanese disclosed would be subjected to intensive air and artillery attack.

He ordered the British flag hoisted above dugouts and sand-bag barriers and served notice the British would hold their lines in Shanghai's western outskirts regardless of eventualities.

The commander's orders were issued as feeling between Japanese and British forces became more acute. British blamed Japanese for 10 casualties, including five deaths, suffered by the British forces in Shanghai thus far.

After a day and night of sustained barrage, Japanese forces attempting to encircle Shanghai crossed Soochow creek west of the city. By noon, however, Chinese announced that a sharp Chinese counter attack had driven the Japanese northward to the other side of the stream.

FIRE IS RETURNED

The prolonged artillery bombardment covered an area extending four miles west from near the International Settlement border. Japanese planes Sunday strafed Chinese troops throughout the day and several times (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today that Great Britain will go exactly as far as the United States in seeking an end to the Japanese-Chinese conflict at the Brussels Nine-power Conference which will open Wednesday.

Making clear the United States is expected to take the lead in any definite action to control the Far Eastern threat to world peace, Mr. Eden said Britain was prepared "to go as far as the United States, in full agreement with them—not rushing in front, but not being left behind."

The Foreign Secretary, who will head the British delegation to Brussels, declared the United States had taken the initiative in holding the Nine-power Conference and any action on the Far East "essentially depended on co-operation of the United States."

Mr. Eden made his assertion in answer to Opposition insinuations that Great Britain had brought pressure to have the Nine-power Conference taken from Geneva to Brussels.

ANXIOUS TO AID

"We realize, with conditions as they are in the world today," Mr. Eden continued, "we must realize the difficulties of the Far Eastern situation. I assure the House that it is in this spirit that I go to Brussels, anxious to contribute what little lies in my power in a situation in which no one can envy a Foreign Secretary today."

The United States, which provided impetus for holding the conference, also had suggested that Brussels be the meeting place, he asserted.

"I say without hesitation," he added, "that in order to get full co-operation, on an equal basis, of the United States government in the international conference, I would travel not only from Geneva to Brussels, but from Melbourne to Alaska—the more particularly in the present situation of international affairs."

NOT FRIGHTENED

Taking peace for his keynote, Mr. Eden stated that "we accept co-operation from all, but dictation from none," and added:

"I have noticed a tendency to use as part of diplomatic machinery methods which are highly dangerous. There is an inclination to threaten, to issue orders from the housetops—to proclaim that which is virtually an ultimatum and to call it peace. Such methods never will have (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3) valid by Mr. Justice Ives and interest awarded the Foresters, the Legislature in April, 1937, passed three substitute acts, and it was two of these which were declared ultra vires in Mr. Justice Ewing's judgment today.

They were the provincial guaranteed Securities Interest Act, which reduced interest on government guaranteed bonds by 50 per cent, and the provincially guaranteed securities proceedings act in so far as it related to the Foresters' action.

The third substitute act, which was not at stake in the Foresters' action, reduced interest rates on government debentures, stocks, treasury bills and savings certificates as from June 1, 1936. The original and substitute acts effected an average interest payment of 2.5 per cent instead of the previous average of 4.89 per cent.

In a written judgment on the Foresters' action, which was heard in the Alberta Supreme Court October 13, Mr. Justice Ewing declared:

"In the result there will be a declaration that the Provincial Guaranteed Securities Act is ultra vires of the Legislature and that the provincially Guaranteed Securities Proceedings Act, in so far as it relates to the subject matter of this action, is also ultra vires."

After reviewing the action instituted by the Foresters, whose head office is in Toronto, and declaring the courts are interpreters of the constitution, Mr. Justice Ewing said:

"It is true that the statute under consideration (the Provincial Guaranteed Securities Act) makes no express reference to interest but, as the exclusive legislative authority of the Parliament of Canada extends to interest, it is clear the statute in question does in fact derogate from rights with respect to interest and therefore from rights over which the Legislature of Alberta has no jurisdiction."

"Moreover, it appears to me that the prohibitory statute conflicts with Section 2 of the Interest Act of Canada, which provides that the lender may stipulate for and exact any rate of interest which may be agreed on. The relationship between the plaintiff and the defendant district is that of lender and borrower."

No Recognition Of Gen. Franco
Reports British Government Is Moving Meet Denial in London

LONDON (CP)—Reliable British sources today denied reports Great Britain had granted the Spanish insurgent regime de facto recognition.

The French embassy also said the report was unlikely. It was said there Great Britain would not take such a step without first informing France. They added such a development was highly improbable in the present tangled situation.

PARIS (CP)—A London dispatch to the Havas News Agency today said de facto recognition of the Spanish insurgent government was reported to form part of an accord reached there with representatives of Gen. Franco. Diplomatic recognition was not included in the agreement, the unconfirmed report said.

It was previously reported the British government would exchange consular representatives with the insurgent regime.

The dispatch said the agreement was reported to grant to Gen. Franco's representatives here powers superior to those of a semi-official commercial mission, and to provide for the sending of British representatives to Salamanca, insurgent capital.

Official announcement was said likely to be made at any moment. The reports added the British Cabinet had taken this decision last Wednesday, and followed it up with conversations with the Spanish insurgents.

NEW YORK'S HOT CAMPAIGN ENDS

Tomorrow People Will Choose La Guardia Or Mahoney For Mayor

NEW YORK (AP)—Jeremiah Titus Mahoney, the man who made Tammany Hall climb on his hand wagon, today laid down a last-minute oratorical barrage in an attempt to capture New York's city hall from Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia.

The former athlete who heads the A.A.U.—now engaged in the bitterest fight of his career—took the stump in a 12 speech marathon in a desperate bid to defeat his rival, the "Little Flower" of fusion, and restore the city to the Democratic Party.

Tomorrow an estimated 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 voters will settle the city's political question No. 1: "Can Mayor La Guardia defy the Democratic organization's century-old boast that it has never been whipped twice in a row by any reform administration?"

Mahoney, a genial, blunt-tongued, crab-browed Irishman, who has served on the state Supreme Court bench, predicted he would win by "half a million votes."

La Guardia's supporters picked the mayor to win by 750,000. Sen. Royal S. Copeland, the Tammany-endorsed candidate whom Mahoney defeated in the Democratic primary, forecast a La Guardia victory, although he campaigned briefly for Mahoney.

The Myrtle Street cap was set off in a vacant field and blew a hole about a foot deep in the ground.

Except for these dangerous acts, Halloween was generally quiet.

In Oak Bay 10 street lights were broken and a number of traffic signs were defaced and otherwise damaged. This type of damage was also general in other sections.

B.C. Electric, street car conductors experienced their usual worrying time with young people pulling trolleys and putting explosives on the tracks. In some cases it was reported potassium cyanide was placed on the tracks, but fortunately it was not used in sufficiently large quantities to cause serious damage.

The only injury reported to the police during the evening was the result of the celebration was that of Dorothy Robertson, 12, of 1212 Princess Avenue, who had her hand burned when a firecracker she was holding exploded. She was given medical aid by police.

A bonfire started by children at Dominion Road and Willson Street caught surrounding bushes and necessitated a call for fire engines. No serious damage resulted.

TWO FALSE ALARMS

The fire department experienced the quietest time in years, answering only two false alarms. Chief Munroe expressed gratification over this, saying it was apparent the children were realizing the expense and danger of calling the engines out on false calls.

Several instances of voters' lists having been pulled from convenient posts where they were posted, were reported to police.

The organized bonfires for the younger children were again a big success and splendid programmes were arranged for the children's entertainment. Six fires were arranged and all were attended by hundreds of children in fancy dress costumes.

Games were played in which the young ones took an active part and officials of the parks board who arranged the gatherings agreed they were a greater success than last year, when they were instituted.

CANADA MOURNS DEATH IN MANITOBA OF DR. C. W. GORDON

"The Gay Crusader," was published in 1936, but he completed the manuscript of his reminiscences shortly before he was taken ill.

Stricken at his summer house on the Lake of the Woods, Dr. Gordon entered the hospital here October 1 for an operation from which he failed to rally. Death came at 6.10 a.m. Sunday in his 78th year.

Charles and Henry Gordon, the latter 71, were the last surviving members of the family of Rev. Daniel Gordon, missionary sent to Ontario by the Free Church of Scotland. Henry died Saturday at his Winnipeg home, a retired physician whose life was marked by a distinguished Great War service as medical officer overseas.

BORN IN ONTARIO

Scenes of several of Dr. Gordon's books were laid in his native Gengarry County, Ontario. After graduation from the University of Toronto and Knox College, Toronto, and post-graduate work in Edinburgh, he spent four years, 1890-94, as a missionary in Canada's Rocky Mountains and there, too, he found, through hard experience, material for subsequent novels.

He went overseas in 1915 and the next year became senior chaplain of Canadian forces in England. Major Gordon proceeded to France in 1916 as senior chaplain of the 9th Brigade, British Expeditionary Force, Canada. He served with distinction and again his experiences were depicted in sturdy form.

Dr. Gordon is survived by the widow, one son, Prof. King Gordon of Montreal, and six daughters, Mrs. Humphrey Carver, Toronto; Mrs. Arthur B. Browne, Toronto; Louise Gordon, Montreal; Allison and Ruth, Winnipeg; and Marjory of Winnipeg, now on the Pacific Ocean, returning from a trip to Japan.

FUNERAL OF PHYSICIAN

The late Dr. H. F. Gordon, to be buried here today, is survived by two sons, Dr. Athol Gordon of Winnipeg and Dr. Neil Gordon, now taking post-graduate studies in Vienna.

Dr. H. F. Gordon was born at Harrington, Ont., and after obtaining his primary education there graduated from the Ontario College of Physicians and the University of Western Ontario Medical School in 1903.

After practicing in London, Ont., he moved to Winnipeg in 1906, where he remained until the outbreak of war. He joined the 51st Battalion as medical officer with rank of captain in 1915 and later recruited and commanded the 12th Canadian Field

His first novel, "Black Rock," was published in 1896, followed by "The Gay Crusader," which sold more than 1,000,000 copies. More than a score of novels carried his fame to fame.

He wrote, in many of his own experiences, of days in Gengarry County, or men he met in western fields. Some of his novels translated into a number of languages. His books include: "Beyond the Marshes," "Michael," "The Man From Garry," "Gengarry School," "Breaking the Record," "The Pilot of S. Creek," "Gwen," "The Doctor's Crows Nest," "Corporal Came and the Sky Pilot of Non Land."

A number of universities named Dr. Gordon with honours. In 1936 King George honored him a C.M.G.

Dr. Gordon was a visitor brief time in Victoria in 1933.

Japanese Predict Fight With Russia

Magazine Subsidized By Nippon Army Says Only Date Is in Doubt

TOKIO (CP-Havas) — Japan and Russia are virtually in a state of war, the review, "Russia," an article believed subsidized by the Japanese army, declared at the weekend.

This is the case in the domains of diplomacy, economy and propaganda, the magazine said. "The geographic situation makes armed conflict inevitable, and the only thing we do not know is when the big guns will begin to speak."

"We do not believe the U.S.S.R. will take advantage of the Sino-Japanese conflict to attack us, since the 300,000 men of the Red Army massed at the borders are insufficient to face the Japanese."

The article went on to suggest that while Russia's democratic friends might not help her against Japan, Germany and Italy would not stand still when it became a matter of defeating communism. China would remain Moscow's only ally, the article predicted.

Members of the Students' Council put on a one-act comedy. Following the programme the preliminary dance was held in the gymnasium with a three-piece orchestra providing the music.

Canon Sheppard Called By Death

Was One of England's Most Popular Preachers and Great Pacifist

LONDON (AP)—Rev. Canon Hugh Richard (Dick) Sheppard, long known as one of England's outstanding pacifists, died Sunday at his home near St. Paul's Cathedral, where he had been a canon and preacher since 1934.

Canon Sheppard, one of the most popular preachers in the country, died as he was sitting in a chair writing a letter. He was 44.

A week ago he was elected lord rector of Glasgow University by a vote considered in some quarters a condemnation of the government's defence policy.

He ordinarily did not wear conventional clerical garb, and was said to have carried a clergyman's collar in his pocket to don hurriedly in case he met his bishop.

He was deputy priest in ordinary to both King Edward VII and King George V. His father, the late Rev. Canon Edgar Sheppard, a subdean of the Chapels Royal, preached before Edward VII and Queen Victoria.

Canon Sheppard served as honorary chaplain to King George V, private chaplain to the Archbishop of York and Dean of Canterbury as well as president of the Sherlock Holmes Society of Detective Enthusiasts.

WAR CHAPLAIN

From 1914 to 1927 he was vicar of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, serving in the Great War as a chaplain in France.

A year ago the government refused him permission to fly to Spain and intercede with insurgent Gen. Franco about disposition of civilian hostages in the civil war.

In the Glasgow University election of October 23, Canon Sheppard polled 338 votes as Peace Pledge Union candidate against 365 for Professor W. Macneller Dixon, Scottish Nationalist; 281 for Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Conservative; and 220 for Professor J. E. S. Haldane, United Front. He was elected to succeed Sir Iain Colquhoun for a three-year term.

Last March Canon Sheppard stood in Hyde Park, defying doctors' orders, and addressed a meeting of the Peace Pledge Union. He denounced the attitude of church leaders toward war and declared:

"I absolutely deny the right of the Archbishop of York and the Bishop of London to say that a Christian may kill his brother."

Search Cowichan Lake For Bodies

Provincial Police at Cowichan are continuing their search for trace of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Larson, who were believed drowned in Cowichan Lake on October 17, according to advices reaching division headquarters here.

It is now 13 days since searchers found their boat and equipment floating in the lake and preparations are being made for an intensive hunt along the shoreline for trace of the bodies.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson disappeared after leaving Camp 3 for Camp 17 on the morning of October 17. Their upturned boat, oars, a cushion and fishing tackle were subsequently found near Shaw Creek.

Three Die In Crash of Plane

Wing Commander Rickards One of Victims of Accident in Iraq

BAGDAD, Iraq (CP-Reuters)—Wing Commander Aubrey R. M. Rickards, called by the Arab chiefs "the flying Lawrence," was killed with two other Royal Air Force men in a plane crash at Khor Charim Saturday.

The others were Pilot Officer R. H. McClatchey and Aircraftsman Leslie O'Leary. Their plane turned over while landing.

Wing Commander Rickards was liaison officer in the Persian Gulf and an expert on middle eastern politics. He spoke Arabic fluently and often visited the various chiefs by air.

CALLING ALL DOGS

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

Woman talked; dog bit.

Here is a true anecdote, worth including in our series, if only because of its departure from ordinary tales of church dogs.

In Scotland I have seen collies lying decorously at the shepherd masters' feet, during long services. My father was a clergyman. Gyp, his little black-and-tan dog, used to follow him, unseen, not only to church but into the pulpit, where she cuddled silent and motionless in the sleeve of his clerical gown, until the final Amen. But here is a different dog-and-church yarn.

Mrs. Dorothy Stratton of 201 West 92nd Street, New York City, went to a party one Saturday night last spring. At 8 a.m. Sunday she found herself outside St. Boniface's Church. An early service was in progress. Mrs. Stratton decided to attend it. Under one arm she was carrying her tiny lapdog, Pepper.

She sat down in a front pew. There she began to explain in a loud tone to Pepper what it was all about. The sexton, John Bray, tipped up to her pew, and exhorted her to stop talking. Pepper proceeded to bite the sexton's hand to the bone. Mrs. Stratton and her dog were hustled to the street outside, where a policeman took charge of them both. In court she was fined $5 for disorderly conduct.

Pepper is not likely to get another chance to go to church. (Copyright, 1937, McNaught Syndicate)

Song Writer's Memory Honored

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—

Romance of a young school teacher and his sweetheart of long ago sent a group of Hamilton citizens to the Western Highway entrance Saturday to unveil a rugged monument, an old millstone set on edge, honoring the memory of George Washington Johnson, who wrote the song "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

From Athens, Tenn., Friday came a message saying Johnson wrote the song during a visit here. But to Hamilton Saturday came Walter A. Old, nephew of "Maggie," and he declared it was beyond doubt Johnson wrote the song during his courtship in Wentworth County.

The mill to which the lovers wandered was in Wentworth, said Old. The whole episode was truly Canadian.

The monument was erected by the Native Sons of Canada.

B.C. CATHOLICS GIVEN HONORS

Vancouver Cathedral Scene of Ceremony as Papal Titles Are Given

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three thousand Roman Catholics Sunday evening filled the Holy Rosary Cathedral here to watch Archbishop William Duke confer on members of the Vancouver clergy and laity honors recently bestowed by His Holiness Pope Pius XI.

The ceremony began with a procession around the church, led by a column of altar boys, priests, those who were to receive the titles and the archbishop. The column-circled the church then moved slowly back to the altar, where the priests took their places around the archbishop.

In a brief sermon the archbishop outlined the reasons for the honors bestowed on the persons.

The priests formed a line on the right-hand side of the altar, while the lay members were seated in a pew. Each recipient was summoned separately.

Invested domestic prelates were Very Rev. Mgr. Macdonald, former rector of the cathedral; Very Rev. Mgr. Carroll and Rt. Rev. Mgr. L. Forget, rector of St. Patrick's Church.

Father Forget was unable to attend the dedication, but his investiture will take place at a later date in his own church.

Those invested as privy chamberlains of His Holiness included Very Rev. Mgr. Ambrose Griffith, Very Rev. Mgr. Francis Chaloner and Very Rev. Mgr. Thomas M. Nichol.

Members of the laity to receive the Papal honors were James M. Coady and Dr. Edward J. Gray, who were made Knight Commanders of St. Gregory, while Matthew Clancy, Leo Kilty and H. M. Nomura were made Knights of St. Sylvester.

Miss Ann MacMaster and Mrs. Laura Mocher received the Papal decoration of "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice."

The dedication was followed by a solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Returns After England Tour

Following a five months' tour of England, Matthew Hutchison, former city electrician, returned to the city last Monday.

In the Old Country Mr. Hutchison said he found plenty of evidence of prosperity created by the heavy spending under the rearmament programme but there was some question as to how long this artificial prosperity would last.

Mr. Hutchison spent some time in Scotland where he resided near proving grounds for airplanes. There was constant evidence there of armament preparation in the air with planes passing overhead night and day, he said.

Dr. E. D. Carder, Vancouver, Dies

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. E. D. Carder, newly-appointed full-time city epidemiologist, died suddenly at his home Sunday. He was 62.

Born in Ontario and a graduate of University of Toronto, Dr. Carder came to Vancouver in 1914 and since then had served as part time specialist for the city health department.

Last Tuesday the city council announced his appointment as full time city epidemiologist. He is survived by the widow and one daughter here.

Tolerance Is Aberhart Plea

Social Credit Policies Deserve Support of Independent Liberals, He Says

EDMONTON (CP)—Need of steadfastness in purpose and a spirit of tolerance was emphasized by Premier Aberhart of Alberta in speaking at the Edmonton Protestant Bible Conference her Sunday night.

Pointing out the Social Credit government was striving to introduce monetary reform by which the state and not a private monopoly should create credit, the Premier said the objective was worthy of support of all progressive Liberals who were seeking the same thing.

Although all were seeking the same goal, yet they quarrelled as to method and manner, the Premier pointed out. It was all a quibble about words, he added, which unity should prevail.

Premier Aberhart said he believed there was "far too much vitriolic criticism" in the world today. "Because you do not belong to the same church or lodge or political party that I do, is surely no reason why I should try to insult you or you try to disgrace me," he said.

The Premier pointed out Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, had criticized the Rowell royal commission Dominion-provincial relations. At Brandon, Man., yet, he added, D. M. Dugan, Alberta Conservative leader, on the same night at Medicine Hat, Alta., had criticized the Alberta government, for doing previously what Mr. Bennett had done at Brandon.

Hon. E. C. Manning, Provincial Secretary, also spoke briefly. Declaring he had been criticised for contending increased taxation of banks was justified, Mr. Manning said creation of credit for profit was the only barrier in the way of creating credit to meet the needs of the people. While credit was created by the banks instead of the state it could not be hoped to cure present unsatisfactory conditions, he said.

Hallowe'en Fun Ends In Death

Saskatchewan Youth Succumbs to Wounds Following Shotgun Discharge

SOUTHEY, Sask. (CP)—The result of a Hallowe'en prank, Gordon Anderson, 20, died Sunday, the victim of a gunshot wound. Jacob Daum, 71, alleged to have fired the fatal shot at a number of boys who were annoying him early Sunday morning, was scheduled to appear in Royal Canadian Mounted Police court at Regina today, authorities said.

The shooting occurred when Anderson, with a number of other boys of the neighborhood, visited the Daum home, shining a flashlight through the windows. Daum warned the boys to go away, but the boys did not heed his warning. Daum then went to his door, according to statements made to Dr. G. W. Hutchinson, Southey doctor, and again shouted his warning. The boys moved about 30 yards from the house and Anderson is said to have again flashed his light. A shot rang out and Anderson fell. He was carried to Dr. Hutchinson's office by his companions, where he died inside an hour.

Dr. Hutchinson, who performed an autopsy, stated "internal hemorrhage, caused by gunshot wounds," was the cause of death. The lad was shot in the chest, pellets from a 12 gauge shotgun penetrating his heart.

A jury, impelled by Dr. A. P. Nelles, coroner, of Raymore, viewed the body Sunday and adjourned till Tuesday, November 9. Southey is about 45 miles north of Regina.

No Bennett Platform Yet

R. HON. R. B. BENNETT, LEADER OF THE Conservative Party of Canada, at New Westminster on Saturday night delivered a speech to the "converted" and tried to make out that all he had done while in office at Ottawa had been of the fullest benefit to the country and that he still considered himself the logical Moses on whom Canadians could depend to lead them out of such economic troubles as may be encompassing them.

The former Premier's speech was divided between a not altogether successful attempt to divert important issues into a humorous channel and what must have struck the majority of those who listened to or read it as a glaring example of inconsistency and a denial of all constructive suggestion. Indeed, if Mr. Bennett had tried to show his supporters in British Columbia at this time—not forgetting the people of the other provinces—that the Conservative Party of Canada has no platform on which to appeal for the support of the electorate, he could not have made a better job of it.

The ex-Prime Minister told his audience that a few facts were useful at times even if occasionally they were apt to be a little bit embarrassing. We agree with him. But he proceeded to turn the tables on himself when he dealt with tariff history of the last seven years. This is the same Mr. Bennett, by the way, who, as soon as he was elected to office in 1930, declared to all and sundry that he was going to blast Canada's way into the markets of the world. The jacking up of the tariff was the implement of his choice. By its use, trade could be increased in the home market and such unemployment as existed at that time—there were less than 150,000 idle Canadian workers in the summer of 1930—he would end or "perish in the attempt."

On July 25 of that year the people of Canada gave Mr. Bennett his opportunity. The external trade of the country was worth $2,600,000,000 and, as already noted, unemployment stood at about its normal condition. After two years of government under Mr. Bennett, the fiscal year ending March 31, 1933, showed that the Dominion's business with the outside world had dropped in value to less than $900,000,000—or back to the pre-war level—and that the workless army had increased by several hundreds of thousands. The annual reports of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics can be referred to by any one who suspects the veracity of these figures.

The King government has been in office for two years. The country's trade is now worth more than twice as much as it was four years ago, and unemployment, while still serious, has been considerably curtailed. As Mr. Bennett says, a few facts are useful at times, even if they are apt to be embarrassing occasionally.

To Cut Death Toll

ONE PROPOSAL THAT SHOULD GO through the B.C. Legislature without opposition is that which would provide for driving tests for British Columbia automobile drivers.

At the risk of repetition, attention is again drawn to the growing toll of traffic in this province. It is a toll out of all proportion to the increase in the number of cars on the road. The only conclusion that can be arrived at is that drivers are becoming increasingly careless or that there are many behind the wheels of automobiles who for a variety of reasons have no business there.

Ninety deaths on the highways so far this year, a 47.5 per cent increase with only 10 per cent increase in the number of cars on the road, is a striking and alarming summary of the tragic situation. For the Dominion, the total of deaths yearly reaches 1,250, and the total of maimed by automobile accidents runs as high as 20,000. With this appalling loss of life and limb there is a large property loss.

Beyond legislation which may reduce these totals, there must be co-operation of the public—co-operation not only on the part of the automobile drivers but also pedestrians who, sometimes, through lack of consideration, force a driver into a position where to avoid hitting them he is forced to hit some other pedestrian or collide with another car. In talking of accidents it is usual to bear in mind the motorist only, although the pedestrian, by reasonable co-operation, can play an important part in reducing the total of accidents.

Up and Up

REPORTS OF GREATER AND MORE employment that have marked official figures from Ottawa with uninterrupted regularity the last two years make encouraging reading.

One report tells of 23,000 more Canadians with jobs on October 1 than on September 1. Another states Canada's trade in September showed an expansion of $22,891,000, compared with September, 1936, the total being $165,456,613 against $142,565,370.

Although Canada cannot yet claim to be near the day when every man who seeks employment can be profitably employed, the reports of trade expansion and more employment coming hand in hand make satisfactory reading.

Inefficient Democracy

PROPOSERS OF VARIOUS EUROPEAN dictatorial systems often cry that democracy is too inefficient to give human beings a good government; and we who defend democracy might as well understand that democracy's inefficiency is an essential part of freedom—that it is, in fact, a reason for preferring democracy rather than for rejecting it.

Chancellor Harry Woodburn Chase of New York University touched on this point in an address at the sesqui-centennial of Franklin and Marshall College the other day. "Democracy will be a better thing," he said, "if we have the patience and the wisdom to remember that men and women cannot be dragged and regimented into democracy. Democracy is a growth which is nourished on the intelligent co-operation of free men. It develops, not by force and violence, but by education and re-education."

Because of those things, it moves slowly and makes mistakes. Hence it is inefficient. Its inefficiency is one great reason for cherishing it.

Superior Creatures

GRATIFYING INDEED TO MANKIND IS the announcement of Dr. Philip H. Dubois, New Mexico, University psychologist, that "the majority of men are smarter than white rats."

But, Dr. Dubois continues, there are undoubtedly "some apes that can learn more than some men," providing the apes are fairly bright and the men fairly dull.

Man prides himself on his superior intelligence and then makes studied effort to conceal it. No big game hunter has reported seeing a wild ape intoxicate himself on locoweed and then go swinging down tree lanes endangering his own life and that of his fellows. But every day superior creatures drink themselves into a state of temporary blindness and climb behind the steering wheel of a death-dealing juggernaut.

Testing Agreements

INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS, LIKE most other human acts, are to be judged by the fruits; so the world will have to wait a little while to learn whether in any of the volunteer-withdrawal schemes there is really any possibility of giving the Spanish civil war back to the people of Spain.

The reason why no such agreement can be accepted at its face value until its actual fruits can be examined is, of course, the perfectly obvious fact that the foreign powers involved are not primarily interested in getting the volunteers out of Spain. They are chiefly concerned with seeing to it that one side or the other gets some advantage out of the deal. It is a safe bet that if they can work any withdrawal agreement to provide such an advantage they will do it.

So we can only wait and see... while Spain continues to suffer her long agony of a war which half of Europe is helping to keep alive.

Notes

The Community Fund is a community responsibility.

Help the volunteer workers for the Community Chest. They are doing your job.

With meat prices rising, governments might declare open season on the "bulls" and "bears" of the stock markets.

Imagine the embarrassment of that Hollywood divorce lawyer who obtained a decree for his star client after she and her husband had been reconciled. That's violating the rules.

The discovery of new shotgun pellets to keep ducks from dying of lead poisoning should be a great consolation to the ducks. Hunters want to keep the fowl from dying out of range.

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER'S SIMPLE FAITH—STILL BELIEVES MUSSOLINI From The New York Post

These are bad days for those who had nourished the hope that the great democracies of Europe, especially Great Britain, at last would bestir themselves to stem the Fascist tide.

For faulty and cynicism it would be difficult to beat the statement of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. After all these months of bluff and manoeuvre, behind the smoke screen of the Nonintervention Committee, Chamberlain finally says plainly that he is interested in one thing only, namely, that there shall be no permanent Italian military occupation of Spain.

In spite of all the hypocritical pretensions of his government and its Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden, Chamberlain finally shows that he is not interested in preventing foreign intervention in the civil war; he is not interested in upholding principles of international law or national sovereignty; he is not interested in ending the conflict.

He expressed himself as "satisfied" with the present situation on one ground only—the Italian assurance that Italy does not intend to hold any part of Spain or the Balearic Islands after the war is over.

Says Mr. Chamberlain of the Italian promise:

"I accept these assurances as being given in good faith. I am very glad they have been given. They relieve us of a situation which, if it had arisen, might have made a material change in the military conditions of the western Mediterranean and would have been a matter of serious concern to His Majesty's government. Happily, this is not the case."

The one hopeful sign in the picture is the coalition of Laborites and Liberals which rolled up a strong minority which refused to vote the government confidence. That minority of 111 votes, to 204 cast for the government, may well be swelled if the Chamberlain government continues to betray England's national interests for the sake of the interests of her economic royalists.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

LEAVES

THE SMELL of burning leaves is a pleasant thing. The hardest man is moved by it, remembers the days when, as a small boy, he used to smell maple leaves burning in Ontario, when the world looked somewhat brighter than it does at the moment. All over the city they are burning oak leaves now and the smell of them rises up sweet and pungent to the heavens. But it is an appalling wastage of one of our most valuable natural products.

Indeed, I never see a leaf pile burning without a twinge of regret and a feeling of pity for the poor, ignorant man who is burning it. I am tempted every day to stop and say to him, with a dramatic gesture: "My friend, do you realize you are burning the most precious stuff in nature, the stuff of the earth itself, the stuff that makes all our food grow? Do you realize that it is leaf mould all over the surface of the earth that supports all life, including yours, unworthy though it may be?"

"Take this precious stuff," I say, (or would like to say if I had the moral courage), "take these leaves and cherish them, and let nature turn them into the good, black, rich stuff that is the product of growth and sunshine, and rain, give them time, my poor friend, to mature like fine wine. Guard them closely for five years and then, perhaps, you will have leaf mould even like mine which is beyond price or reckoning, layer on layer of it, year by year, like the wines of longest vintage. Take it, then, reverently, and return it to the earth and see your roses and your green peas burst into a new luxuriance. Yea, though you spend most of your life consuming and destroying, do this one useful thing before you die. Put back something into the earth which supports you, which you have robbed and plundered all your life. Make this one small offering to nature. Do one good thing before you pass along."

But I never have the courage to make this speech. I never have the courage to stop the fires and the fearful carnage still goes on.

NOBLE SPORT

WRESTLING used to be a noble sport among the Greeks and Romans. The very best sculptors in history made statues of young men wrestling. But once the commercial gentlemen got hold of it and discovered that what the public wants is not skill, but violence, the present style of carnage and obscenity was developed into a most profitable industry, employing many low-grade persons who would be on relief otherwise or digging ditches.

The latest adornment of the wrestling sport occurred recently in California where, it is related, the promoters thought up a new thrill for the intelligent spectators. They compelled their employees to wrestle in deep mud, until both of them were covered from head to foot, and looked like bronze statues. The New Republic has a neat idea on this famous wrestling match. It says it doesn't know how the promoters can go any further in their efforts to please the customers. The only thing it can think of to improve on wrestling in mud is for each of the wrestlers to be soaked in gasoline and lighted at the beginning of the bout; but it says it fears to make such a suggestion in public, because the promoters are liable to adopt it immediately.

Probably they will. Probably you'll hear of ignited wrestlers before long and, if you do, the public will flock to see them, particularly if it is guaranteed that one or both of the combatants will be fatally burned. At our present rate of progress in these matters we shall shortly restore the good old-fashioned gladiatorial games of Rome, with no silly nonsense about them, no sentimentality and no mercy; with five killings a night guaranteed. Here is a chance for a clever promoter to start a fine new industry and give employment to many poor men; and there is no doubt that in this era of prosperity many men would prefer to fight to the death with a 50-50 chance of survival than remain half-starved.

The obvious fact is that the world is getting more brutal and barbarous all the time. Wrestling is just one sign of it. The popularity of crime in every form of fiction and fact, printed, screened and broadcast, is another sign. And the two large-scale wars now in progress show that in modern warfare man is returning to brutality worse than that of the Middle Ages. In Spain the loyalists have murdered some 500,000 harmless civilians behind the battle lines, and the rebels have murdered some 400,000 in a wholesale fashion never witnessed in the Great War. Both sides thus do pretty well. In China, apparently, the custom is not to take prisoners if you can help it. If there is another really first-rate war, the Christian nations will give such an exhibition of barbarism as has never been witnessed on the earth. The proof that the world has been definitely changed by the machine age, the impact of the machine and the collapse of the old gods, is the fact that these horrors go on every day without worrying the average man in the least. He even gets bored reading of them. His only real concern is the fear that they may cause another depression and bring his wages down.

INTO WHAT?

SO FAR I have been unable to find any two financiers who can agree on the amount which British Columbia went behind in its provincial budget in the last fiscal year. I have seen the amount estimated at anywhere from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, depending on what you include in it. The figure doesn't matter. What matters is that in the year of highest revenues in history, when we were collecting far more than ever before, we still spent far more than we collected.

This is not to criticize any particular government, for the same condition prevails in all provinces, more or less, and under all governments, as it has here for years and years, and under the federal government as well. We are not beginning to pay our way in good times. What is going to happen in hard times? Anybody but the public can see exactly what we, all over Canada, are heading into, but for some curious reason it is unpatriotic to say it.

British Labor Fears Duke Duped By Nazis' Loreleis

THE RECENT activities of the Duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII, demand attention, for he is in danger of being exploited by German Nazism and its propaganda generalissimo, according to Ludwig Lore, foreign-news editor of The New York Post. Clever staging made Windsor's journey through the Reich a triumphal march.

Wherever he went the masses surrounded him, broke through police lines and cheered him lustily. That must have made a deep impression on a man who, having been exiled from his own country, now finds sympathy and enthusiastic acclaim from the people of a kindred race.

As Prince of Wales Edward was the hope of British radicals. Leftists of various groups saw in him a sincere friend of the masses. James Maxton, leader of the Left Socialist "Independent Labor Party" and an avowed Republican, was one of his intimate friends, and even William Gallacher, milder and lone Communist M.P., came to King Edward's defence in the House of Commons with the remark that "Loyalty ceases" when the King ceases to serve the interests of a particular group around the Cabinet.

This sentiment is changing rapidly. The New Leader (London) Maxton's organ, wrote, in connection with Windsor's German trip: "Something must be done." This, you will remember, was Edward VIII's soul-stirring call to the nation after a visit to South Wales, and now something is being done by the Duke of Windsor. He has taken up a new public career on an international scale as head of an international movement for improving working class conditions and rationalizing labor. "Social appeasement" is to be the object of the campaign; that is certainly a new name for Fascism.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

Has Windsor become a Fascist? There were rumors to that effect at the time of his abdication. While in London last summer, I heard numerous stories connecting Mrs. Warfield with Nazi sympathizers. One story told of grave indiscretions committed by her brother, who was rumored to have intimate commercial relations with Ambassador von Ribbentrop, but nobody was in the position to vouch for its truth.

London has two explanations for Edward's sensational trip to Germany. One is that the Berlin visit was planned by the old Court clique and certain members of the Cabinet in order to discredit the former King. The other—and the more probable—is that the trip was arranged by his Nazi friends in Britain to increase his popularity and at the same time to propagandize Nazi war schemes and unemployment relief devices. The English people, these Nazis say, know nothing of the practical and creative work the Third Reich is doing. The Duke, who intends to write about his German and American journeys, could and should serve as the most effective Fascist propagandist in the English-speaking countries.

HIS FRIENDS

WINDSOR'S German trip was arranged by Joachim von Ribbentrop, who flew to Berlin and made the arrangements with Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels. His American tour will have two "sponsors." One is an advertising agency, accidentally headed by a German-American, the French-American efficiency expert, Charles Bedaux, a well-known Fascist, is the other. Mr. Bedaux owns the Chateau de Candé, near Monts, France, where the Duchess of Windsor was a guest before her marriage to the Duke and in which they were married. He intends to organize a "Society for Social Appeasement," and Edward has promised to assist him.

"It must have gladdened Bedaux's heart," says The New Leader, "to think of Dr. Ley, chief of the German Labor Front, telling the Duke about the 'harmony' between employers and employed within the happy German Reich. Is any one being fooled?"

Bedaux is not alone among Edward's new-found friends. There is also the Aga Khan, whose son, Ali, was a close friend of Mrs. Wallis before she and the Duke were married. Shortly before Edward's abdication, Ali, Ribbentrop and "Putzi" Hanfstaengl (now refugee in London) tried to use Lady Cunard's London mansion as a show place for Nazi propaganda, but Prime Minister Baldwin suggested to the King that he discourage the enterprise. At present, the Aga Khan is the spiritual leader of millions of Mohammedans. He is also this year's president of the League of Nations. His influence is great, both in his homeland and in Europe. Great Britain depends on his moral support. It is highly significant that he rushed to Berlin to meet the Windsors and that Hitler, Goebbels, von Neurath and Alfred Rosenberg used the op-

OUR HEROES

To the Editor:—That article in The Times, a week or two back, was timely. I mean the one by Capt. Guy Sheppard, "The Last 100,000." It is timely because Remembrance Day draws near again. Now with November 11 so close I make no apology for this extract from "Music Everywhere," printed at Christmas, 1934, by Diggon-Hibben, and still on sale at Victoria book stores, at pages 33-34, under heading

SACRIFICE

Thermopylae, Salamis That great Grecian orator, Pericles, said of his countrymen who laid down their lives at the call of their native land: "Their sepulchres and inscriptions are not the graves and memorial stones of the cemetery, for the whole Earth is the Sepulchre of famous men: the Memorials of them are graven, not on stone, but in the Hearts of mankind."

Vimy, Sanctuary Wood So, to every Canadian, is the undying memory of our Heroes: their bodies may lie in Flanders or France, but their Souls are marching on in Canada. "Their memory honored in the land they loved." Their unforgotten names are and ever shall be green as their Maple Leaf enshrined in the love of their countrymen.

And you, young Canadians, whose memories do not carry back to 1914, have you nothing to do about this? You may laugh at the contents of that booklet as very old-fashioned, but you may not laugh at this, its last word. For those men on your streets today—war's derelicts—are the remnant of those same boys and young men like yourselves that your fathers sent overseas for your sakes, with this assurance—"Go to it, Boys! We'll see you taken care of when you come home!" That promise, made on your behalf—not on Armistice Day only, but every day of your lives—is up to you to fulfill.

WINDSOR A TOOL?

Many of Edward's friends still insist that he is being tricked and duped, but this seems highly improbable. It appears that what he wants is to make a name for himself, to show his British enemies that he is still a figure, crowned or uncrowned. That he should go to Germany to study the Nazi system and its accomplishments one could understand. The arrangements for his American tour are far less understandable. Why a public relations counsellor? He employs several secretaries and knows the United States from three previous visits. Does he really require an advertising agency and a guide in the person of the millionaire Bedaux? The Duke, one strongly suspects, is, after all, a very average person, seeking to bolster up his badly shaken self-esteem by means that are certainly open to question. If it is true, as has been reliably reported, that he has agreed to publish the "inside story" of the last six months, then one can understand that, deserted by his countrymen, he should have succumbed to the blandishments of Germany's Fascist leaders.

Letters to the Editor

DIRTY WORK IN SPAIN

To the Editor:—The dear Old Country is going to pay a heavy price for doing the dirty trick of not delivering arms and ammunition actually paid for by the duly elected Republican government of Spain at the time of their election and siding with the power which has to its credit such a thing as the Spanish Inquisition. Her ability to hold a clear passage through the Mediterranean with Mussolini, Franco and the sinister influences behind them is doubtful—the fact that Hitler will be dropped eventually by Rome when he has served his purpose, does not help matters just now.

The more I see of my dog the less I think of many of my fellowmen, especially such leaders as above mentioned.

The Governor-General of Canada recently advised Canadians to form their own opinions and learn to consolidate them and act accordingly. Reading between the lines, it is high time Canadians looked facts in the face and the world situation and not depend on England, who has got troubles of her own.

CHARLES WALKDEN

YOUTH'S TRAGEDY

To the Editor:—The tragedy of hopeless, workless youth thrust into detention camps, releasing their hatred in destruction and vandalism, is almost beyond telling. Where are those who have deceived them with promises of a better day?

Where is the long overdue leadership of the church in this need, by the church I mean the body of true worshippers (not stone edifices and ornaments). Has such dry rot crept in that our ears are deafened and eyes dimmed to our own shortcomings to acknowledge our own contribution to the existing chaos; each and all have participated, and it is for each and all to get back to the commandment of love.

If the Christian's principle were practiced there would be no need to perpetrate or condone those youth caught in the coils of mass selfishness, whose hopes have been raised and dashed by false prophets and leaders. "Lip service Christians" through the centuries and present time have bestowed the present legacy. Now is the time to fan the dying embers into the living fire of Christian brotherhood.

ESTHER DALLAS

WANTS A C.C.F. MEMBER

To the Editor:—It seems to me there can be no doubt that were our parliamentary representatives chosen on fitness instead of on affiliation, Victoria as a whole would feel flattered by the opportunity of being represented at Ottawa by such an outstanding young man as John King Gordon and would elect him by acclamation on November 29 next.

But not so! Unfortunately fire-side sentiments differ sharply from party principles (one should be excused if that last word were wrongly spelt!). The old parties are doubtless even now combing the constituency to come by candidacies and catch-phrases to oppose a man who, by his character, training and accepted ability, is pre-eminently fitted to fill the vacancy created by the passing of Dr. Tolmie, to whom he was a very close runner-up in the last by-election—a little more than a year ago.

MR. POOLEY AND POLICE

To the Editor:—Having read H. R. Pooley's remarks concerning the changing of the Police Commission system, which he instituted as it now stands, let us look into things a little.

The Attorney-General is supposed to look into all acts and advise the government whether they are workable or not. This gives him a final say. The A.G. is also the head of the police. The commissioner holds office under him. Therefore, all police are engaged subject to his approval, more or less. The commissioners of Vancouver are appointed by him; also, the magistrates who try the cases brought by the police. Can one imagine a more despotic state of affairs anywhere in the world, and Mr. Pooley talks about the state of affairs in Vancouver! Whose fault was it but the A.G.'s? He had three police forces to call on, two absolutely under his control and one at call in any time of trouble.

The police are there for the prevention of crime and it is up to the A.G. to see the laws are properly enforced. One wonders why with all of these forces at his command he fell down on his job. If, as he intimates, the laws had been broken he had recourse at law.

BATTLERS FOR PEACE

To the Editor:—May we again simply state that the League for Peace and Democracy is composed of people representing all shades of political opinion gathered together for the purpose of furthering peace and democracy.

Would Mr. Butler admit the inspiration and source of the "Young Citizens' League," and why in the name of humanity he sees fit to oppose the legitimate desires of the Canadian people for peace and democracy?

Our league is sponsoring a peace conference to be held in Vancouver on October 30-31. Attending the conference will be church and peace groups, labor, political groups, women, youth and educational groups. In order to guide the deliberations of the conference a "peace ballot" is to be taken throughout B.C., and the public may vote: (1) "My sympathies lie with the League of Nations and collective security or 'Isolation and self-sufficiency'; (2) 'The loyalists' or 'The rebels'; (3) 'The Chinese' or 'The Japanese,' with space for brief comment.

Scots Plan St. Andrew's Ball
 With Hallowe'en past and Tuesday, November 30, the date of the annual St. Andrew's cabaret ball in the ballroom at the Empress Hotel, Scots of Victoria are vigorously and enthusiastically practicing reels and eightsoomes.
 The general idea is for every one who owns a kiln, a Scotch accent or a soupcon of Scotch ancestry to form his or her set for Scotch dances and then, to avoid confusion or disappointment on the night of the ball, to register those sets with Mrs. Colin Rutherford, who has kindly consented to convene the ball again this year.
 Not that it will be all Scotch dances! There will be plenty of up-to-the-minute swing, with the Empress Orchestra under Billy Tickle's skilful baton, accompanying the pipes, too.
 A grand march starts the affair off. Later, before supper is served, the traditional procession, complete with pipers, chief (for the night), sword bearer, whisky (in bottle), horn of plenty, Scotch lassies with heather, and The Aggie, "great chieftain o' the Hieland" race. Then follows the ceremony honoring Scotland's late King George VI, and the eightsoome wish for bairning for the ball, says she will Her-address is 3367.

Says Women Of Orient Want Peace

Mrs. Geo. Murray Tells Of Observations In China and Japan

"The women of the Orient want peace. After spending considerable time in both China and Japan, I firmly believe that the women of Japan resent this war as much as the women of China. But they are not showing it. And no finer organization ever carried on in the early days of the Great War, than the Chinese or the Japanese Red Cross, assisted by able women in both countries."

This was one of the interesting observations made by Mrs. George M. Murray, wife of the Liberal member for 11th elect, who, with her husband, returned this morning to Victoria on the Empress of Asia after a sojourn of several months in the Orient.

After describing the well-organized efforts in Shanghai and Hongkong to assist the refugees, Mrs. Murray told of the assistance given by the Chinese of Malaya, who less than six weeks after the start of hostilities, sent $1,000,000 (Straits) to Nanking, together with 500 bundles of medical and surgical supplies.

A Youth Committee of Chinese girls and young women was organized and Miss Rachel Sum, Cantonese who runs a smart shop in the Raffles Hotel, told me that the young people would send $50,000 from Malaya to the war chest in honor of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, who is looked upon as the Joan of Arc of China, she continued.

The distance from Singapore to Nanking meant nothing to one coolie-boy who donated to Miss Sum's committee, his bicycle. These young ladies raffled the wheel, receiving wide publicity from the Chinese Sen Cew Jit Poh, the largest daily newspaper in circulation in the Malaya, and after the wheel had been raffled and won several times, the Youth Committee turned in the princely sum of $300 to the Red Cross fund.

JAPANESE WELCOME

In Kobe, Mrs. Murray had a glimpse of how the Japanese women were assisting their side.

"The women of Kobe have opened their homes and hearts to the soldiers. From all of Japan they came to Kobe to embark for China. On every doorway is a welcome sign. Flags are hung on all buildings, both residential and business. The soldiers are often detained in Kobe for training and outfitting and the housewives of Kobe, take them into their homes, feed them well, ask no questions, provide for their every comfort and when the ship leaves, presents the 'defender of Japan' with a generous gift of wearing apparel or luxuries of some sort. After the soldiers have departed, the hostesses notifies the War Office that she has had as her guest—such and such from so and so and she is rewarded yen 2.50 for every day the military guests were with her," said Mrs. Murray.

CHILDREN PREPARING

"The women of Japan are urging the smaller children in the preparation of war also, Mrs. Murray observed. 'On Saturday morning, October 9, 5,000 school boys dressed in regulation blue serge shorts and jackets, small peaked caps, went en masse to 11 miles beyond the city limits for sham battles and war manoeuvres. On the day following, we observed at least 500 girls of equal ages, dressed in the school regulation uniform of pleated skirts of blue serge, sailor-middy and blue felt hat, lined up for some sort of drilling.'"

There is to be one week of national prayer, and already legions of women have begun the pilgrimages to the shrines, praying for victory over the Chinese, she said.

Beaux-Arts Tea Dance Success

Hallowe'en lent atmosphere and color to the tea-dance which the Beaux-Arts Society held at the Crystal Garden on Saturday afternoon as the opening of their social season. Under the direction of Miss Florence Ruggles, the orchestra platform had been decorated with orange paper and miniature pumpkins, with autumn foliage and dahlias. Orange tapers and Jack o' Lanterns centred the tea tables.

Miss Gloria Wilson and Miss Evelyn Lytton were in charge of the arrangements and the entertaining programme was arranged by Miss Wilson.

Mrs. Jack Barracough, the Misses Margery and Honor Benson and Messrs. Fraser Lister, Dudley Wickett and Harry Davis sang "My Hero," from "The Chocolate Soldier," with Mrs. Barracough taking the solo; "Take Your Pretty Partner to the Ball," from "The Country Girl," "The Country Dance," "Viennese 'Floralora,'" and the "Italian Street Song," from "Floralora," in which Miss Margery Benson sang the solo.

The dance of the Hallowe'en cats was presented by little Joan Sidwell and June Day, pupils of the Russian Ballet School, and the Ghost Waltz, danced by Myra Batchelor, Myra Edwards, Georgina Dowdall, Geraldine Paterson and Maude Renwick, of the Russian Ballet School, were much applauded.

Members present were the Misses Marjorie Scarrett, Olive Chisholm, Anne MacNeill, Mary Sparrow and Doreen Petherbridge. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Marjorie Scarrett, Mears Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams (formerly Gwen Addison), whose marriage took place on October 16, have returned from their honeymoon in Seattle and are in residence at 822 Anderson Street.

Miss Vivienne Wood, R.N., who is to be married on November 26, was the guest of honor when Miss Barbara Player entertained at the tea hour Saturday afternoon at her home on Richmond Road. The tea table was centred with white chrysanthemums in a crystal basket, with white candles on either side. A lovely collection of gifts concealed in a model of a Jubilee Hospital bed was presented to the guest of honor.

Those present were: Mrs. Lloyd Bassett, Mrs. C. G. H. Daniel, Misses Phiney, Rennie, West, Morrison, Bawden, Welton, Fenton, Boughton, McDougall, Collingwood, Wilson, Hickman, Brindle, McCrae, Keeler, Ryall, Anderson and Latorpell.

A pleasant evening was spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Flight, Calumet Avenue, when members of the Motor Cycle Club and lady friends paid a surprise visit. The occasion was the 20th birthday of Miss Phyllis Flight, and the visitors called to wish her "many happy returns." Games, dancing and music was enjoyed, with Mr. E. Sarsiat and Mr. D. Cummings at the piano. Dainty refreshments were served and the evening drew to close about 12.30. Those present were Miss Jean Stewart, Mrs. Jack Rhodes, Miss Margaret Bryson, Miss Audrey Waring, Miss Miriam Banford (Vancouver), Miss Dolly Waring, Miss Phyllis Flight, Miss Nora Flight, Messrs. C. ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.

Men, because they are men, are never understood and a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time. No matter how loudly you scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three weeks of life.

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

Oak Planted At Guide Camp

Ceremony Saturday
Marks Silver
Wedding-Chief Guide

At an interesting little ceremony at the Girl Guide camp site at Sooke on Saturday afternoon, an oak seedling was planted in dual commemoration of the Coronation and also of the silver wedding anniversary of the Chief Scout and Lady Baden-Powell.

Mrs. Alan Morkill, provincial commissioner, formally planted the little tree on a sheltered slope, touching upon its significance and announcing that, on behalf of the Guides of British Columbia, she had dispatched a cable to Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, with their congratulations and their good wishes. After the ceremony, Mrs. Morkill entertained the party at tea at her summer home, "The Glen."

Accompanying her were Miss Hilda Leighton, camp commissioner; Mrs. V. J. Pritchard, for the Brownies; Miss Alice Wilkinson, North District; the Misses Margaret Acland and Lisette Ryan, West District; Miss Doreen Lillie, First East Rangers, and Miss Gwen Day, patrol leader, Edith Cavell Company, and Mrs. A. Hetherington, who kindly loaned her car for the occasion.

ESQUIMALT PARTY

Esquimalt Guides and Brownies were entertained at a Halloween party on Saturday afternoon at the Parish Hall, St. Paul's Garrison Church, by the Esquimalt committee of the Victoria North District Girl Guide Association.

Competitive games were played, songs were contributed by the Brownie pack, and an appropriately thrilling ghost scene was enacted by Brownies Barbara Warner and Mavis Ockenden.

A bountiful tea, at which the Halloween motif was featured, was convened by Mrs. W. E. A. Barclay, assisted by Mrs. A. Lockley, Mrs. L. Hall and Mrs. H. A. Allan. A profusion of Halloween toys, caps and candies distributed to the children by their hostesses added to the merriment of the occasion. Before the party broke up three rousing cheers were given for Mrs. G. P. Clarke, chairman, and the ladies of the committee.

Mrs. J. Knowles, 1052 Topaz Avenue, entertained at her home Friday afternoon in honor of three recent brides, Mrs. John McLennan, formerly Bessie Newham; Mrs. Wilfred Schroder, nee Dorothy Mountain, and Mrs. Daniel Rigg, the former Dorothy Cookman. The tea table, spread with a lace cloth, was centred with a wedding cake prettily decorated and surrounded by pink tulle, with cut glass vases holding small white chrysanthemums, and tall pink tapers in pink holders at either side of the cake. At each corner of the table stood a miniature bride and groom. Gladioli and chrysanthemums were arranged in the living-room. The guests were Mrs. John McLennan, Mrs. W. Newham, Mrs. Wilfred Schroder, Mrs. J. Mountain, Mrs. T. Cairns, Mrs. Daniel Rigg, Mrs. A. Cookman and Mrs. Edwin Jones.

Children At Hallowe'en Party

Gifts For Solarium
Received At Lake Hill Carnival

Under the auspices of Lake Hill Women's Institute a jolly Halloween party was given for the children of the district. About 130 children attended, including 90 in fancy dress costumes, to participate in the fun. Mrs. Findlay was general convener of the affair. A well-organized programme was arranged by Mrs. Moffat and included singing and recitations by some of the pupils from Cloverdale School. Much of the success of the evening was due Mr. P. C. Routley, who very kindly acted as M.C.

Judging of the children's costumes proved rather difficult, owing to the many attractive dresses. Prizes were given for the best costumes worn by children under six years, girls under eight years, boys under eight years, girls between 8 and 11 years, boys between 11 and 13, and boys between 11 and 13. Mr. Routley specially commented on Alfred Barr, the only boy in his class, aged 14, and hoped that next year other boys would take the trouble to dress in costume. Miss Hilda Leighton and Mrs. P. R. Leighton were the judges.

Muriel Hardwicke gave a recitation of her own composition, and Eileen Crowe, Jean Pringle, Francis Logan, Dorothy Smith, J. Campbell, E. Melville, M. Justice, J. Palmer, D. Pearce and B. Lipsey all took part in the programme. Mr. Desmond Burdon-Murphy accompanied the children at the piano. A special treat was given the children by Betty Clarke's pupils, who gave an exhibition of tap dancing with Mr. Schofield as the pianist.

A generous supper was provided for a number of parents as well as for the children and was in charge of Mrs. Currie, assisted by Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. McNaught, Mrs. Jaffray, Mrs. A. P. Webster, Mrs. T. Simmons, Mrs. Tilley and Mrs. Holyoak.

Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Bowers were at the receipt of customs and report numerous sacks of vegetables and fruits received, also a splendid amount of canned and preserved jams and jellies and a useful donation of cash; all of which is in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium. The members are indebted to Messrs. Scott & Feden, who convey these donations gratuitously each year to the Solarium.

Armistice Eve Ball Stirs Memories

A gaily decorated ballroom, and dancing to the strains of Wm. Tickle's smooth-flowing rhythm will provide an alluring atmosphere on Armistice Eve, when officers of the Amputation Club will be hosts at a dance to be held in the Crystal ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

This annual social event has, with each repetition, become more enjoyable. Many novelty features are planned and the entertainment committee guarantees this year's party will be the best ever, so those attending are sure to have a memorable evening.

The club's purpose is not to glorify war, nor to become maudlin about sacrifice and patriotic service, but simply to help those who would otherwise find the going hard.

Souvenirs of the Great War will be on exhibit after November 1, at 606 Fort Street. The collection includes: British, French and German steel helmets, German pistols, bandages and bombers' armor, a machine-gun, bayonets, badges and soldiers' rations.

The function will be under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, Premier T. D. Pattullo, Mayor Andrew McGavin, Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N., Mrs. W. C. Nichol and Brigadier D. J. MacDonald.

Tickets can be obtained at 606 Fort Street, and 612 View Street, or from members. Dancing will continue from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m.

Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at headquarters. Final arrangements for the anniversary tea musicale to be held at the Empress Hotel on November 19 and other important business will be transacting. The re-by actual loss of position or by threatening or imposing any pecuniary penalty, with the object of preventing an employee from belonging to a trade union, shall be liable, upon conviction, to a fine of $100 and a term in jail of 30 days. A corporation would be liable to a fine of $1,000 and, in the event of that not being paid, the officers of the corporation would be held personally responsible.

Outside of arguments at the opening meeting Saturday morning, when representatives of three Vancouver unions were unseated in a ruling against delegates of independent unions and those affiliated with the Canadian Federation of Labor and the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, the convention was practically unanimous in all matters. All delegates had A.F. of L. affiliation.

POPULAR DECISION Discussion at yesterday morning's session, when the proposed bill was adopted as the one to go before the government, was entirely favorable and tremendous applause greeted the announcement from the chair that it had been accepted.

The resolutions committee recommended the Trades Congress Act, now known as Bill 62, in preference to one sponsored by Harold Winch, C.C.F. whip in the Legislature. Mr. Winch, speaking to the convention Saturday, noted his bill would compel collective bargaining and peaceful picketing. The resolutions committee told the convention the Winch bill might be attacked legally with success.

"We intend to put on an active campaign with a view to getting individual members of the Legislature to support the bill when introduced by the government and we already have promises of support from many members of the Legislature," Mr. Jamieson said following the convention.

Tom Uphill, M.P.P. for Fernie and a delegate to the convention from the mine workers of that district, told the convention on Saturday the word "demand" was the only word the provincial government understood and he advised the meeting to use it.

C.C.F. SUPPORT Mr. Winch said he hoped organized labor of British Columbia would meet during each session of the Legislature to express the voice of the workers of British Columbia. He said any trades union bill must be non-partisan in character and that it would have the unanimous support of all C.C.F. members in the House.

One of the resolutions brought in was that the "fair wage clause" of federal government work be inserted in provincial government works. This calls for a scale of 50 cents an hour.

Another resolution asked that all school books be printed by the King's Printer at Victoria and sold to pupils at cost. The Department of Education should purchase all copyrights of books used, the resolution said.

The convention decided that P.G.E. employees should be granted the same privileges as civil servants, as far as superannuation was concerned.

A resolution that bakers should work only in the daytime was carried.

There was considerable discussion regarding the suggestion the B.C. Federation of Labor be reformed, after being dormant since 1920. A committee was elected to inquire into the matter. Named to it were Messrs. Jamieson, William Page, Youhill, Chivers and Atkinson.

"Whether or not we are successful in getting the unions to form a provincial Federation of Labor we intend to continue our conventions in Victoria, or elsewhere in the province, as this was such an outstanding success," Mr. Jamieson said.

The press was thanked by the convention for its coverage of the meetings.

ONE OF the most lovable characters in the history of Pacific Northwest golf passed on to the Fairways Beyond last Friday in the death of Bob Johnstone, Seattle professional. No one was better known or more respected in coast golf than Johnstone, who arrived in Seattle to take over the professional's job at the Seattle Golf Club in 1905 and still retained the position at the time of his death. Thirty-two years of continuous service with one club speaks for the splendid ability and character of the man.

During his height as a golfer Johnstone won, among other titles, three Pacific Northwest open championships. As an instructor he was rated very highly in the profession, and under the Johnstone method of teaching, many stars were developed. Including Miss Agnes Ford, Miss Phoebe Nell Tidmarsh, former Pacific Northwest titleholders, and Ben Stein, winner of many Pacific Northwest crowns and one-time western amateur champion. Bob Johnstone has passed on, but his memory will live a long time.

Writing in his column in The Seattle P.I., Royal Brougham made the following comment:

"There is a choke in the voice and mist in the eye of every golfer who knew the grand old man of the northwest links. He was a kindly, lovable Scotsman who mastered the art of curing hooks and slices and encouraging the duffers. But more important than making golfers was his capacity for making friends. As his familiar figure disappears over the hill, this writer joins the thousands in wishing greener fairways for Seattle's pioneer linksman."

Much has been written about the punch-drunk fighters in boxing and of how scrappers never know when to quit the sport. Nat Fleischer, editor of The Ring, famous boxing magazine, has some sound advice to offer in a recent editorial. It follows in part:

"How often have you seen a once great fighter, who just a mere shell of his former self, has been battered from pillar to post in a preliminary bout?"

"A comeback, he calls it, but the fight fans almost to a man see the former fistie hero in another light—one they term the punch-drunk fighter."

"How often have you been at a fight club and watched the hero of another day fall before youth, before vitality of the youngster just coming to the front, and wish you had not attended because you liked to remember the knocked-out gladiator as he was in his prime? You've seen that, and so have I. You've looked on sympathetically, perhaps, wishing you could lay your hands on the one who sent this former star to his doom."

"Taps to a ring career comes to every fighter eventually, but, unfortunately, the majority do not know when to quit. They go through the mill several years after they should have retired, and when they finally hang up the gloves, they feel like the shell-shocked soldier who returned to us from the battlefields of France during the Great War. Others heed the call, but pity that the boxing commissions who have it within their power to halt such lads do not act with an iron hand."

"Out in Chicago in the lobby of the Morrison Hotel on the day of the Louis-Braddock fight, there were several such pitiful cases on view. There was poor Pete Herman, blind in both eyes. I could name two dozen other stars of the past, some of whom were walking on their heels, others who were begging alms because of their helpless condition, and all because those who control the sport in this country have neglected a most important part of their work—proper medical supervision over the men whom they control."

"This is a rather ticklish subject to tackle, because I love boxing and its environment. An editorial such as I am now writing naturally reflects on boxing as a sport, but, regardless of any censor that might be heaped upon (Turn to Page 18, Col. 1)

King Clancy Has Instilled Fight In Hockey Squad

Big Red-shirted Team Faces New Campaign With Revived Spirit

Few New Faces

MONTREAL, Oct. 30.—There is a new fighting spirit around the old Maroon camp, and if strength and strategy can be developed on a similar scale, doughty King Clancy's clan will prove the surprise packet of the National Hockey League season—they hope.

You can hark to past records, consider the toll of time and examine minutely the lineup of 1937-1938, and this is what you probably will get: A team that finished second to Montreal Canadiens in last year's international race, an average player's age of between 28 and 30 years, and a team whose hopes of being bolstered lies mainly with the fellows who for one reason and another couldn't "get going" last season.

There's something paramount to speed and endurance that Maroons hope to have. And that's the battling instinct of the easy-cussing Irishman who left Toronto Maple Leafs to make his debut as a big-time coach.

LACK SPEED

What Clancy expects more than anything is fight. Unquestionably, there is not the speed in Maroons as in some of the more youthful clubs. But the King claims there still is power and endurance.

Clancy, a physically tough little guy who always could take it and hand out some heavy checks, is concentrating now on fortifying the defence.

Up forward he considers he has fewer worries. Hope is placed on the slim shoulders of Carl Voss, who will be flanked on the first line by Dave Trotter and Earl Robinson, who traces the same crouched, bounding style of the late Howie Morenz. Voss suffered all last winter with throat trouble.

Jerry Shannon, the wild Irishman who never stops chasing the puck, will centre the second line with Herbie Cain on the left and Gus Marker on the right. Tommy Cook, who traveled a lot last year, Russ Bilanco and Paul Runge, will fight it out for a chance to work between Baldy Northcott and Jimmy Ward.

"Now you may think," says Clancy, "that because we haven't got a bunch of kids there won't be a lot of speed. Well, that's where you're wrong. And what's more, experience accompanies every one of those boys. That counts a lot. They'll be fighting, because we'll all be fighting. We're going to be like that. Hand-playing, hard-checking leads to wide-open hockey. That's what we're going to have."

DEFENCE PROBLEM

The only spot where a face new to the professional ranks may appear is on the defence. That's where King is having his difficulties. Silver-haired Stew Evans will be coupled with Cy Wentworth.

Possibly—and just possibly—the man chosen to help fill the hole left by the retirement of Lionel Conacher may be picked from the amateurs who have tried to thumb a ride on the red machine.

Clancy first tried out Runge to pair with Allan Shields, who came back to Maroons this year from Boston Bruins. But his speed was needed up forward. So there still is a selection to be made from Roger Jenkins, on loan last year to Americans; Maurice Crogan of Quebec Aces, and possibly Des Smith of Ottawa, who has signed with Montreal Royals but may be called to pro company later.

There's no trouble about the netminding. Bill Beveridge will be back, apparently taking the permanent appointment as successor to Alex Connell, who abandoned hockey before the close of last season.

"Twin" Sullivan Takes Last Count

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.,—Mike (Twin) Sullivan, 59, once one of the world's ranking welterweight pugilists, died at his home last night.

A native of Cambridge, Sullivan fought a nontitle draw with Joe Gans, then champion, in Baltimore in 1905. Two years later he earned a nontitle decision over champion Honey Melody.

Todd-Musgrave Golf Winners

Top Field in League Match at Oak Bay Course With Total Score of 152

With a combined 18-hole score of 152 Jimmy Todd, City and B.C. open champion, and A. S. G. Musgrave, representing the Victoria Golf Club, captured the Victoria and District Golf League final at the Oak Bay course yesterday.

Todd reeled off a par-equaling 69, while Musgrave contributed an 83.

In second place, one stroke more than the leaders, were Harold Brynjolfsson and W. H. Newcombe of the Uplands Club with 153. Brynjolfsson shot a smart 70 and Newcombe an 83. Third place went to Norman Wallace and Eric Wright, Macaulay Point, with 156. Wallace had a 75 and Wright an 81. In fourth place, Ted Colgate, H. G. Mackenzie, Colwood, with 157. Colgate shot a 77 and Mackenzie an 80.

Harold Pretty, the lone representative from Gorge Vale, had a 76.

Fishermen Are In Difficulty

Seek Agreement With Cowichan River Indians Over Fishing Rights

Fishermen trespassing on the Cowichan River Reserve to gain access to that portion of the Cowichan River which flows through the reserve, are being subject to fines, Major Roger Monteth of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association announced today.

The natives of the reserve, following the action of the federal government in curtailing the operation of their weirs, have been forbidding anglers to cross their land or to fish the seven or eight miles of river within the borders of the reservation for some time now.

To make the matter legal, tribesmen recently uncovered the Indian Treaty in Duncan and are now prosecuting all trespassers. One fisherman has been forced to pay a $15 penalty by the court.

The executive of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association will discuss the matter tomorrow evening at 5.30 at a meeting to be held at Secretary Jack Falkins' office, 1314 Broad Street. Members of the executive are of the opinion that some amicable arrangement can be made to settle the question.

The Cowichan River is the only steelhead river on the southern end of the island, and should the river remain closed this winter many fishermen will be disappointed.

Metropolitans nosed out Mount Toulmie, 1 to 0, Saturday afternoon in the first game of the newly-formed Merchants' Football League played at Gladstone Avenue. Blousfield accounted for the only tally. Fast end to end play predominated throughout, featured by the fine netminding of Kitchen and Saunders, opposing goalies. P. J. Woodley refereed.

Kills Bear With .22

Tony Mazink, 21-year-old Sudbury youth, did some rapid calculation in a hurry when he met a huge bear near Windy Lake, just outside of his city. Bruin charged and Tony, armed with only a .22 rifle, stood his ground, dropping the 500-pound brute just three feet in front of him with his fifth shot. The other four bullets also found a resting place in the bear, shown with Tony and his shepherd dog.

Bays Ruggers Take League Leadership

Move Out in Front in Barnard Cup Race With 12 to 9 Win Over Wanderers

Set right back on their heels in the first part of the initial stanza, but recovering before the interval, and then going through for a decisive victory in the final session, Bert Buller's Bays classified themselves as the team to beat in the Barnard Cup rugby league Saturday when they defeated the Oak Bay Wanderers 12 to 9 at Macdonald Park.

The "dope" went true to form, for the match, in addition to being a fine exhibition, was a nip-and-tuck affair from the start.

WANDERERS AGGRESSIVE

The Oak Bay boys fielded an aggressive fifteen which lacked nothing more than experience and the ability to cross the oarsmen's line after battering at it through the early minutes of the game.

Although the Wanderers had a decided edge in the first half, the only points they made came from a penalty kick about three minutes from the start. Campbell Forbes made the kick good and then the Bays evened matters a couple of minutes later on a penalty.

The splendid kicking of "Butch" Ferguson kept the Wanderers from crossing the Bays' line several times during the remainder of the half and then on their first break through, the oarsmen scored from a flag lineup just before half time when Collier went over. Buzz Brown made the kick for points good.

BROWN KICKS WELL

The rowing clubbers took matters in hand in the final session to score another four points. The result of a scrum-backfield play saw Brown snap up a pass and kick a field goal.

A penalty place kick by McConnan put the Wanderers three points closer to the Bays later in the half and then the Oak Bay boys turned a loose ball into a fine passing run with Brent Murdoch scoring a try. McConnan's kick for points failed.

The largest number of oval ball fans on hand at a Barnard Cup game this season went away well satisfied with having seen one of the finest matches played in some time.

The oarsmen proved themselves to be a resourceful bunch when they abandoned their usual backfield attacks in the first half to kick and dribble their way out of some tight pinches. Their forward pack, led by the fighting Dohoney brothers, turned in an excellent performance.

Uncorking some smart three-quarter runs, the Wanderers

Ice Gossip

Take Lester Patrick's word for it—it pays to run a farm system. The New York Rangers' head man says all except three playing members of his current edition are products of the system. Those not in this category are goalie Dave Kerr, defenceman Art Coulter and Butch Keeling, a forward. Patrick didn't include Frankie Boucher, expected to confine his attention mostly to coaching this year.

Poor Jack Adams! Those Detroit Red Wings are so stacked with classy performers—Coach Adams had to send two able players like Wally Kijera, a centre, and Orville Rodolston, a strapping defenceman, to the minors. And when any other N.H.L. manager probably would jump at the chance of picking them up.

On just how much is "not much" rests, evidently, the chance of big Nels Stewart ending his holdout siege with New York Americans. Manager Red Dutton reported the veteran centreman hasn't come to terms, but said he expected Stewart to capitulate shortly, "as there is not much difference in his demands and our offer."

Rangers and Amerks will play the final game of their prairie exhibition series tonight in Winnipeg without five players, who left last night for Montreal to play in the Howie Morenz benefit game tomorrow night. The five are: Frank Boucher and Cecil Dillon, Rangers, and Dave Schirner, Art Chapman and Happy Day, Amerks.

King Clancy is going to fill in for Lionel Conacher. This would be news if the substitution was for more than one game, but it isn't. The King, who coaches Montreal Maroons, will take Conacher's place in the benefit game for the family of Howie Morenz. Conacher, who gave up hockey in favor of a political career, was slated to make his last appearance in the game, but has been delayed out west, where he is visiting relatives.

Farm teams usually take it on the chin in preseason exhibition games with their "papa" clubs, but sometimes they rebel—as in the last period in an effort to win, found themselves on the short end of a 2 to 1 score yesterday, against Springfield Indians.

Maybe it's a record. When Rangers and Amerks played a doubleheader the other day in Saskatoon, it was thought to be the first time N.H.L. clubs had done such a thing. Amerks won one, 1 to 0, the other was a 1 to 1 tie.

But don't those Chicago Black Hawks take things literally? "Get in there and fight" to them means evidently, the highsign for a little old-fashioned pitching and tossing of punches. Hawks were right "in there" in whipping the amateur Muskego Reds, 6 to 1, in more ways than one. Their Tommy Kendall had a scrap in the first period, a general melee broke out in the second, and Doc Romnes was a principal in a third period set-to.

Grid Star And Fan in Scuffle

WINNIPEG.—Coach Dean Griffing of Regina Roughriders, took exception Saturday to a slighting remark by a spectator as the big snapback walked from the field in the Winnipeg Regina football game won by Roughriders, 12 to 1. Griffing beckoned the man from the stands, the man complied and they disappeared behind the grandstand. Sounds of a scuffle ensued. When the man reappeared he presented a badly-battered appearance.

PING-PONGERS TITLE TOURNEY

Annual Table Tennis Championships Meet November 11, 12 and 13

Experts in all divisions will go to bat in quest of the closed city table tennis titles on November 11, 12 and 13 when the annual championship tournament is staged in the basement of the Westholme Hotel, headquarters of the Victoria Table Tennis League.

The largest entry in many years is expected to vie for the various titles at stake and Laurie Greenwood, secretary, says that quite a number of these will be making their first appearance in tournament play. A novice tournament will be staged in conjunction with the regular meet this year, owing to the increased facilities at the club's disposal. Those players who have not advanced beyond the first round in previous tournaments will be eligible for entry in the novice meet.

Junior players, those under 18 on November 11 this year, will have a championship tournament of their own, but will also be eligible to compete for other championships.

Entries close on Tuesday, November 9, and may be made at the Westholme Hotel clubrooms, or by telephoning E3949.

Men's singles, women's singles, novice singles, junior singles, men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles are the titles at stake.

Young Liberals And Navy Win

The match between the Young Liberals and Camarons saw the former take a 3 to 1 lead in the first half and retain it until the final whistle. Tutthill, Wharf and Knapp scored for the Young Liberals and Duncan and Booth for Camarons.

Vancouver Plays Orillia Tonight

Fourth Game For Canadian Junior Boxla Series; Easterners Game Up

ORILLIA, Ont.—Vancouver Bluebirds and Orillia Baby Terriers play the fourth game of the best-of-five series for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship here tonight. A win for Orillia will give them the title and the Minto Cup but if Vancouver repeats their victory of Friday night the fifth and deciding game will be played at Toronto.

Terriers won the first two games, coming from behind to take the first match 11 to 10 and leading throughout the second to finish on top of a 14 to 10 count. Bluebirds scored a decisive 11 to 6 victory Friday.

Casualty list from the last game included four men, three of them from the coast. Bill Dickenson gashed his forehead over his right eye deeply when he ran into the goalposts while Bert Bryant and Blackie Black each had four stitches placed in their heads to close their wounds. Jimmy Crowe, only Terrier seriously injured, suffered a cut face

Victoria West In Win Number Three

Retain Undefeated Record in First Division Football League Race

Marking up their third successive victory Victoria West were still on top of the first division of the Victoria and District Football League today. On Saturday afternoon on the Heywood Avenue pitch the green-shirted Esquimalt 5 to 1. Saanich Thistles played to a 2 to 2 tie with the Garrison at the Athletic Park to move up into second place, two points behind the leaders.

Victoria City, who were idle Saturday, and the Garrison are tied for third place, with Esquimalt holding down last position with three straight defeats. Although the Wests won by four clear goals from the young Esquimalt eleven the latter provided them with plenty of stiff opposition. The youngest fought back hard and only lack of polish in front of the goal robbed them of additional counters. The Wests packed too much scoring punch.

Wests, put them ahead 2 to 0 at half-time. Early in the second half the Wests moved three goals ahead on John Watt's counter after Morgan had made a neat opening. The Dockers took up the play and managed to save a shutout through Harry Holness. The Wests' fourth came through a penalty taken by Gordie Bell. It was awarded for hands by Marsh. The fifth goal for the winners came from the boot of Watt, the centre-forward splitting the Esquimalt backs to get in close on goalie Chalmers.

T. Robb refereed. The teams follow: Victoria West—Restall, Sweeney, J. Okell, Lorandini, C. Restall, Sage, Doll, R. Okell, Watt, Morgan and G. Barnes.

Esquimalt—Chalmers, Stewart, Marsh, Sage, Cooper, Young, Smith, J. Stewart, Barnswell, Trengellis, Holness and Watt.

DRAWN MATCH
With both elevens engaging in a lot of wild kicking and shooting the Thistles and Garrison battled to a stalemate at the Athletic Park.

Although they got away to a two-goal lead the Thistles were unable to hold off the determined rally of the boys from Work Point and had to be satisfied with a division of points.

At the eight-minute mark the Saanich squad forged ahead McCraig driving the ball past Elliott in the Garrison net. The Thistles forced matters, but their shooting was bad, and many chances were missed as a result. The Thistles boosted their margin to two goals when Hope found the net. Returning to the attack the Garrison made it 2 to 1, Worswick being the goal-getter.

In the second half both teams had many opportunities to score, but it remained for the Garrison to gain the only goal of the half to tie up the game. Wright snared the counter on a pass from Worswick late in the period.

J. C. Dowds refereed. The teams follow: Thistles—Wensley, Carmichael, Leggett, Williams, Wallace, A. Speller, Hope McCraig, Crowe, Cosler, M. Speller and Armitage. Garrison—Elliott, Cook, Evans, Thompson, Jim Watt, Kennedy, Thorburn Worswick, Wright, Richard, Hamilton and Clarke.

RIFLE SHOOT
The Rainbow Rifle Club had its weekly shoot on Saturday. The scores follow:

A class—C. Bates 93, H. Brown 91, R. Mann 91 and P. Mackenzie 86.

C class—N. Anderson 88, J. Mason 86 and F. Greensmith 85.

McIntyre won in straight falls from Herb Freeman, pinning the New Yorker in the third and fourth rounds. Kudo, Japanese star, took two straight falls from Dick Raines in the second and fourth, the latter as the result of a foul.

Argos Cinch Berth By Beating Riders

University of Toronto Upsets Western Intercollegiate Football

TORONTO—Until playoff time rolls around there doesn't appear to be anyone in sight capable of disputing Toronto Argonauts' right to No. 1 ranking among the east's football teams.

The section's only undefeated untied squad, Argos won a Big Four playoff berth by beating Ottawa 11 to 7 for their fourth straight win Saturday. They did this without Harry Sonshine, star secondary defenceman, and Bob Labister, the club's ace punter.

Only among the collegians was there any pile-up atop the standings after Saturday's playing, productive of no upsets. The hitherto undefeated Western Mustangs moved over to share the Intercollegiate Union lead with Toronto after taking a 7 to 3 pasting from the blues and Queen's were within a point of the leaders after beating McGill Redmen 7 to 0 at Kingston.

Sarnia Imperials beat Hamilton Panthers 24 to 5 and left themselves needing but one more triumph over Panthers for their eighth successive Ontario Union championship. In the fifth game, Hamilton's come-backing Tigers stopped Montreal Indians 3 to 2.

OTTAWA OUTPLAYED
Ottawa, 1936 Big Four titlists, all but lost their last hope of gaining the playoffs by their second straight beating from the steady Argos machine. Some 10,000 Ottawans saw their favorites outplayed from the start.

Superior kicking by Johnny Munro and Bernie Thornton paved the way for Queen's triumph, which put them into the thick of the college race. Thornton kicked five of the first half's six points, succeeding once on three tries for field goals. Munro got the others.

Toronto also showed wide superiority in beating Western, who held the Blues to a 4 to 4 tie at London the previous week. A record crowd of 20,000 saw the Blues build an early lead and hold it.

Bummer Stirling led Imperials in their workout against the lowly panthers. The Bummer kicked two field goals, scored a touchdown and two converts. In all the Imperials rolled up three touchdowns, the first by Geary in the opening Sarnia drive. Jack Wright scored all Panthers' points with two placements.

BRONKS WIN.
CALGARY—Staging a series of long gains around the ends behind neat running interference, Calgary bronks defeated Gonzaga University's freshman squad 27 to 12 Saturday in an exhibition game, the first ever played here under the United States grid rules.

CALGARY WINNER.
WINNIPEG—Regina Roughriders whipped Winnipeg 12 to 1 here Saturday to make a spectacular final bow in the current Western Interprovincial Football Union campaign.

Three consecutive victories marked Riders' closing rush, but the rally came too late: Winnipeg and Calgary clinched playoff berths weeks ago. They will meet here next Saturday in the first game of the championship series, with the deciding game in Calgary November 11.

Around the World IN 80 SECONDS

CANADIAN NICKEL SPANS OCEANS ... STIMULATES CANADIAN INDUSTRY

MILE AFTER MILE the deep-sea cable uncoils itself from the hold of the cable-layer and sinks to the ocean's floor, and another link is forged in the chain of Empire communications. A hundred years ago European news took two months to reach the interior of Canada. Recently a message dispatched around the world was received back in 80 seconds.

Canadian Nickel is now being used to speed up transmission over deep-sea cables. By winding wire made of Permalloy (a magnetic Nickel-iron alloy containing 78% Nickel) around the conductor, the speed of communications has been increased from 300 letters a minute to 1900 letters a minute. Tons of Permalloy are used for this purpose.

In the search for more efficient materials, industry and commerce have utilized Nickel for hundreds of purposes. The International Nickel research and sales departments are ever on the alert for new uses and markets for Canadian Nickel in all parts of the world. Scores of difficult peacetime industrial problems have been solved through the development of special Nickel alloys.

For no matter how much Canadian Nickel may be mined and refined, it brings no income to Canada until it is sold. Each new use which is developed for Nickel adds to the volume of sales of Canadian Nickel, and increases the stream of wealth which comes to Canada as a consequence.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The board of directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau will meet in the Chamber of Commerce at 4 tomorrow afternoon.

Ward Four Liberals will hold a special meeting on Wednesday evening at 7.30 at headquarters. Ward delegates to the nominating convention will be selected and all members are asked to attend.

Bank clearings in the city for the month of October were $7,769,264, according to the Victoria Clearing House. Clearings for the same period last year were $8,096,577.

Six persons who pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to charge of failing to stop at stop signs were each fined $5. A seventh was fined $2.50 for the same offence.

Progressive Arts Players have arranged a programme for this evening for the official opening of their new hall and season. Two humorous skits and a one-act play will be presented, starting at 8.

A considerable increase over last year in the number of registrations made by citizens ensuring their franchise for the civic elections in December, was announced by Frank Hunter, city clerk, today. The list will close this evening at 5.

A general meeting of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion will be held tomorrow night at 8, in the clubrooms. The branch will hold a dance for its members on November 26, from 9 to 1, in the Shrine Hall. It is open to members and their families only.

"The Background of the Far Eastern Crisis" will be the subject of a lecture by Professor F. H. Soward of the Department of History at the University of British Columbia, in the auditorium of the Central Junior High School this evening at 8.15, under the auspices of the University Extension Association.

Frank Merryfield, the Cornish wizard, has returned from giving two successful shows at Port Angeles. For the Eagles on Friday and Saturday, Mr. Merryfield and his daughter gave what The Port Angeles Evening News describes as the greatest show of magic ever given in that city. He was booked for return engagements.

A special meeting for Ward One Liberals will be held at Liberal headquarters tomorrow evening at 8, when delegates will be selected for the nominating convention on Friday evening.

Mr. Tanner believes that the majority of these additional visitors would come to Victoria. "We have more inquiries about Vancouver Island and especially Victoria than ever before," he said. He attributed this to the fact that the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau had already done the spade work.

He paid tribute to the bureau as "the most aggressive organization of its sort in Canada."

Manitoba, unlike the rest of the Canadian prairies, had had its best crop in several years this summer, and an additional $70,000,000 or $80,000,000 had been put in the pockets of farmers, many of whom undoubtedly would take holidays here this winter. In this connection he suggested Victoria's tourist season should be regarded as a year-round matter.

Trio in Hospital After Accidents

Three persons were in hospital, but none was reported seriously injured as a result of week-end accidents, according to city police reports.

The injured were: Jean Clark, 626 Superior Street; Alex Paul, Manitoba Hotel, and Mrs. Laura Smith, Gordon Head. All were in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Miss Clark and Alex Paul were passengers with Ted Stevens, 10 Kent Road, in a truck which was turned on its side in an accident at Bay and Government Streets, early yesterday morning. The other car was driven by Jack Martin, 1234 Balmoral Road. Neither driver was reported hurt seriously.

Mrs. Smith was the driver of a car which was damaged in a collision at Belmont Avenue and Haultain Street. The other driver was Miss Ada Benzie, 855 Vancouver Street. Mrs. Smith was taken to hospital in the C. & C. ambulance. The accident occurred on Saturday.

In two other accidents on Saturday W. Duguid, 238 Douglas Street, and Robert E. Rogers, 1857 Fern Street, were the drivers of cars which collided at View and Quadra Streets, and cars driven by W. H. Yardley, 648 Moss Street, and Miss M. Beveridge, 2738 Higgins Street, collided at Langley and Broughton Streets. No one was reported hurt in either of these mishaps.

The monthly meeting of the Victoria Poultry Association will be held this evening at 8, in the Y.M.C.A.

Murray Sees at Least One Year of Fighting

British Columbian, Back From China, Tells Impressions

Fighting in China will go on another year at least, unless there is international intervention, according to George M. Murray, M.P.P. for Lillooet, who returned aboard Ss. Empress of Asia today with Mrs. Murray, after three months in the Far East.

"The Japanese are in so deep now they can't get out. They have a million men in China," he said.

"The Chinese are unified as they have never been and are putting up a brilliant resistance," Mr. Murray said he thought Great Britain and the U.S. should lead the way in proposing a settlement.

If they suggested that Shanghai and its environs be made a free city under control of an international group, the Japanese could withdraw and save face.

In the north the Japanese should withdraw to their former boundaries, but be given the right to participate in the industrial development of the country, as other nations have.

Mr. Murray said the alternative to a settlement along these lines was eventual intervention by Russia. The Soviet, he thought, would let China bleed Japan down for a time yet, then step in with an air fleet, bomb the major cities and smash Japan completely.

At Shanghai, said Mr. Murray, despite the widespread destruction of buildings, and a loss of life estimated at about 75,000 on each side, the situation is little different than it was on August 13 before hostilities started, he said. Tactically speaking the Japanese had made no headway, and they knew it.

CHINESE STRATEGY

"The Chinese have out-manoeuvred them time and again. Their strategy has been brilliant. They have utilized the natural surroundings to offset the superior Japanese mechanical equipment," he said.

"The Japanese, on the other hand, have blundered in their strategy and in diplomacy, antagonizing opinion in most of the nations and the world's press."

"Their failure at Shanghai was amazing. They were held at bay for nearly three months by what was really a disorganized rabble."

"Bombing of the interior cities was silly. It accomplished nothing for the Japanese but to unite the people. In these cities the people have different languages and a different outlook, but this has made them get together to face a common enemy."

Mr. Murray said an amazing sidelight on the conflict was the stability of the Chinese financial structure. The Chinese dollar had not slipped a point due to the genius of T. V. Soong, head of the Bank of China, and Dr. H. H. Kung, the finance minister, who had arranged their foreign credits by taking advantage of every opportunity.

GETTING MUNITIONS

The Chinese were getting munitions through Hongkong, Indo-China and across the western frontier from Russia.

The airtight censorship in Japan had come opera aspects to a visitor, he said.

According to the papers and the radio and movies, the Japanese have won every battle and have gained enough territory to be in Europe by this time.

A vast secret police had been set up and they went so far as to invade a private dinner which Mr. Murray held on board the liner before sailing from Yokohama, he said. They wanted to know what it was all about. This, he thought, was because of the attendance of a secretary from the Chinese embassy.

The embassy, he said, is still operating and exchanges courtesies with the Japanese because, officially, there is no war declared.

FANATICAL SPIRIT

"While I wouldn't say the war is popular in Japan, they are a unit in accepting it. They have a fanatical spirit. Everything is done for the emperor," he said.

Mr. Murray said the Japanese justified such incidents as the shooting of the British ambassador and of the Ulster Fusiliers as the thing to do. They had an air of self-approval for everything, regarding themselves as the "No. 1" people of the world.

Mr. Murray held high admiration of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, whom he described as a "modern Joan of Arc." She would emerge from it all as a great figure, he said. Personally she has taken over the training of the air force and gets full reports on their doings daily.

Acc of the Chinese pilots is T. V. Louey, who shot down 11 Japanese. He will get $2,000 for each one.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray were in Shanghai at the outbreak of hos-

PROMISES KEPT MEMBER SAYS

Mrs. Paul Smith, in Legislature Today, Lauds Liberal Record

Mrs. Paul Smith, Liberal, second member for Vancouver-Burrard in Legislature this afternoon, replied to Herbert Anscomb, Conservative, second member for Victoria, who said on Friday that Liberal pre-election promises of work and wages had not been kept.

Mrs. Smith told the House every fact was against him. She said there had been a great increase in the flow of outside capital to British Columbia and that, in the final analysis, this was the only sound and permanent method of creating work and wages.

Mrs. Smith traced the activities of several government departments to show there had been an increase of work and wages. She spoke of the development of placer mining and forestry work, in which many men had been paid, clothed and fed during the summer months.

SPENDING POWER

She spoke of social service benefits and said money in the hands of recipients of mothers' pensions was spending power.

"There are, possibly, many who construed this slogan of work and wages to mean that everybody out of work would be placed on a government payroll," she said. "The public accounts show that a very substantial proportion of the money spent on relief was in wages and in work, which increased the capital value of this province."

Mrs. Smith mentioned the Department of Lands had given $50,000 to the lumber industry to help build up its world markets.

"The lumber industry of British Columbia was never more prosperous or employed more men than at the present time,"

The Marketing Act, she continued, was beneficial to the primary producers of the province, and now applied to six different classes of producers. She mentioned the need of co-operation of the government at Ottawa with the province to help settle desirable citizens on farms.

THIEVES CRASH STOLEN AUTO

Vehicle Owned By Alex T. Stewart Goes Over Bank On Malahat

A new Chevrolet sedan, owned by Alex T. Stewart, 1711 Leigh Road, was stolen from Broad Street on Saturday night and within an hour was wrecked on The Malahat, near the Bamberston Road.

Two young men, believed to be 19 or 20 years of age, seen immediately after the crash, were being sought by city and provincial police today on a charge of stealing the machine.

The men were seen by William Jollymore, who occupies a cabin on The Malahat, near the scene of the crash. When he heard the car go over the bank of the highway he came out of his cabin and saw the young men climb off the road. They told him they had borrowed the car and were heading for Nanaimo. One man, he said, appeared injured and was limping.

The machine was reported stolen at 8.45 and Mr. Jollymore estimated the time of the accident at 9.30.

On August 14, they had been staying at the Cathay Hotel, which was later bombed, but moved to the Metropole and escaped actual danger.

"It is rather hard to visualize," he said. "Just imagine sitting in a room of the Empress Hotel while shells drop around the garden."

When Mr. Murray set out for China he had intended to study British Columbia trade opportunities in the Far East. The outbreak of trouble had interfered with this, but he looked into this question in Hongkong and Singapore.

In Singapore, he said, there should be openings for British Columbia products. With the construction of the big docks and airports there a new city had taken shape, and it was a varied and wealthy market to be explored.

RETIREES AFTER LONG SERVICE

Mrs. S. Coady-Johnson, Teacher For Nearly 30 Years, Leaves Staff

After a period of almost 30 years devoted to the educational interests of the city, Mrs. Sarah Coady-Johnson, who had been at George Jay School for the last two months, retired from the Victoria teaching staff at the end of last week.

Mrs. Coady-Johnson reckoned over the thousand mark the children who had passed through her hands as a teacher of intermediate grades in the city, where she has lived for the last 50 years.

After teaching in outside parts for 12 years, Mrs. Coady-Johnson joined the city staff 29 years ago, teaching in turn at Boys Central and George Jay before retiring for a short time. During her retirement she sat on the school board and returned to teaching duties about 16 years ago, again going to Boys Central to conduct a special class. She later transferred to Girls Central and more recently was at George Jay School.

Her retirement from active work with the schools brings to a close one of the oldest associations with the city's educational institutions.

PAUL MUNI IN "LIFE OF ZOLA"

Epic Story of Great French Novelist Opens on Capitol Screen

Paul Muni, whose most recent film, "The Story of Louis Pasteur," won for him the coveted gold statuette of the Motion Picture Academy as the best actor of 1936, comes to the Capitol Theatre today in another epic story—"The Life of Emile Zola."

Directed by the same genius who guided the making of "Pasteur," the celebrated William Dieterle, the Zola movie is declared to excel even the previous masterpiece.

It begins with the early struggles of Zola as a novelist, carries him along to wealth and fame, and goes thoroughly into his magnificent crusade on behalf of Capt. Dreyfus, the army officer who was falsely accused of selling military secrets, and was unjustly convicted and sent to Devil's Island.

Joseph Schildkraut portrays the unfortunate Dreyfus. The rest of the cast is practically all-star.

League For Peace and Democracy Passes Resolutions at Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — A boycott of all commerce with "aggressor" nations was endorsed at the two-day conference of the British Columbia section of the Canadian League for Peace and Democracy, which concluded here Sunday.

The conference was attended by 86 delegates, representing 60 organizations in all parts of the province.

Resolutions called on trade unionists not to handle goods loaded for aggressor nations, and approved the picketing of ships, warehouses and mercantile firms handling boycotted goods.

The conference also endorsed the principle of collective security, and called on the Canadian Government to show its desire to preserve the sanctity of treaty obligations by taking a strong stand at the Nine-power conference at Brussels, November 3.

The meeting was in favor of the immediate nationalization of the nickel industry and all other industries engaged in the manufacture of war materials in Canada.

The Canadian Government will be asked to invoke Section 10 of the Customs Act against Japan, which would prohibit the export of all war materials to that country, the conference decided.

Papers May Have To Raise Rates

U.S. Publishers Point to Newsprint Price Boost and Other Factors

NEW YORK (AP) — Prediction that many newspapers may be forced to raise their circulation rates because of rising newsprint and other production costs, came at the week-end from W. G. Chandler, chairman of the newsprint committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Chandler already had asked publishers to protest to newsprint manufacturers over a prospective price increase for 1938. Newspapers in more than 50 cities of the United States had been forced to raise their rates recently because of increased costs, he said.

Costs of newspaper publishing, according to statistics tabulated, have been advancing recently far out of proportion to increased receipts from advertising and circulation. Payrolls, it was stated, have jumped ahead of even the 1929 levels, both through wage increases and from additional employees taken on, while receipts generally are still well below the 1929 total.

Publishers are paying more for metal, fuel, services, newsprint and all the numerous requisites for producing a newspaper.

The largest item of cost, next to payroll, is newsprint paper,

Chandler explained. Newspapers have not only been paying an increased price on this product this year, except a few having long-term contracts at lower than current rates, but in 1938, they will generally face an even greater advance, up to 17 per cent in most cases, he said.

Uncle Ray

In Shakespeare's Town

L—TWO OLD BUILDINGS
Here I am in Stratford-on-Avon, a little city in central England. In the past years I have been here several times, but I always find new things to interest me.

A view of Shakespeare's birthplace

Stratford-on-Avon is the home of only about 12,000 people, but it is famous. One of the world's great people — William Shakespeare — was born in this town 373 years ago.

Only a few hundred yards from the hotel in which I am staying is the house in which Shakespeare was born. Thousands of people from many countries visit it every year. On the second floor is a chamber known as "the birth room."

Before the house became the property of the nation, it was used as an inn, or hotel. The man who owned it used to let his guests write their names on the walls and low ceiling of the birth room. Each person who did that had to pay him a shilling (25c). At present, no one is allowed to write on the house, but hundreds of names are to be seen in the birth room. Some of them were scratched on the window panes.

Yesterday I paid a visit to the King Edward VI grammar school, not far from Shakespeare's boyhood home. Shakespeare went to this school, and probably entered it at the age of six or seven. On the second floor, I was shown a large room with old desks of the kind used centuries ago. The very place where young Shakespeare had his desk was pointed out to me. Each desk in those days was wide enough for three or four pupils to use.

In the time of Shakespeare the pupils went to school in both summer and winter. The hours in winter were from dawn to dusk. During the summer, the school day started at 6 o'clock in the morning, and ended at 6 in the evening!

William studied arithmetic, writing and Latin. After he finished his studies at the grammar school he went to work, but it is not certainly known what he did for several years, but he may have been a clerk in a lawyer's office.

Tomorrow I shall tell a legend of a great trouble which is supposed to have come to Shakespeare.

OCTOBER WAS MILD MONTH

Temperature Above Normal; More Sunshine and Rain Also Recorded

There was more sunshine, the rainfall was a little heavier and the average temperature was higher last month than is usual in October, the monthly weather report released this morning by the Victoria Meteorological Observatory showed.

The mean temperature for the month was 54 degrees, which was three degrees above normal. The maximum was 68 degrees on October 9, 10, 12 and 21. The minimum was 42 on October 29.

Rainfall for the month reached 3.11 inches, which was .30 of an inch above the average.

A total of 153 hours of sunshine was recorded. This was 19 hours above the usual for the month of October.

Rainfall for the first 10 months of 1937 has reached 18.93 inches, which is .75 of an inch above normal.

Unless November and December are unusually wet, the rainfall for the year will be just about average, 27 inches. In recent years the rainfall has been above average.

The first day of November dawned cloudy and a bit chilly, with a sharp wind blowing the few remaining leaves from the trees.

Hunting Husband? Use This Technique

Dorothy Dix

Girl Can Get Any Man She Chooses

CONSIDERING THAT, according to statistics, there are 1,500,000 more men than women in these United States, it would seem that every woman who wanted a husband would have no difficulty in getting one. Such, alas, however, is not the case. In a land overflowing with bachelors there are millions of women just dying to get married but who never make the grade and who live and die unappropriated blessings.

This is the more strange because observations show that the married women in any community have no more beauty, nor intelligence, nor charm than their spinster sisters. And so it leads us to the inevitable conclusion that when the woman who wants to marry doesn't marry, it is because there was something wrong with her technique. She didn't know how to play the game.

Sometimes she was too eager. Sometimes she was too standoffish. Both tactics are equally fatal. It is eternally true that nothing scares a man off and makes him take to his heels so quickly as perceiving that a girl is pushing him. Yet, on the other hand, no man ever notices a girl until she has seen him first and indicated that she found him strangely interesting and attractive.

Many other girls are kept from marrying by their families. Some have mothers who give every young man who comes to the house such a frosty welcome that he gets cold feet and never returns. Others have possessive mothers who break off every budding love affair because they want to keep their darlings for themselves. Others have mothers who try so hard to sell them to every man that they arouse suspicions in the masculine breast and make the Boy Friend wonder why Mother is so anxious to get rid of such a paragon.

And still other mothers entertain all of their daughters' beaux themselves, and the Boy Friend has to say all he has to say within earshot of Papa and Grandma and the little brothers and sisters. One of the reasons why there has been such a decline and fall-off in marriage is because there are no shut doors behind which a suitor can pop the question in privacy.

Now, the girl who wishes to marry should bear several important things in mind. The first is her own attitude, which should be willing but not too anxious; a sort of I-can-take-you-or-leave-you pose, if you get what I mean, with a suggested undertone that it is only his peculiar fascinations that would make her willing to give up her career or leave dear Mother. Then she should discipline her family and keep it from scaring away all of her prospects.

Then in planning her campaign she should take into consideration the possibilities of the situation. There is no use in casting your bait in a stream in which there are no fish. There are communities in which all of the eligible men have left and in which even Peggy Joyce could not wangle another wedding ring. Pick out some place where men congregate and where the competition isn't too great.

If you are 30 and still unmarried, change your base of operations. You have got to be a habit with the men you know and they don't even see you any more. Go to some strange town where you will be a novelty and all of your little bag of tricks will be new. There is a reason why the visiting girl always gets a rush and generally a husband.

Choose your profession with one eye on the job and the other on matrimony. A trained nurse can always marry either the young doctor or the patient. A private secretary also has the inside track of all other girls. Any girl who can't marry the man she works with is too dumb to waste words on.

Dress well, but not so expensively that it sets a man to figuring on what your upkeep would be. If you are clever, keep your light under a bushel when a man is around. Talk to him about himself and he will think you are the most brilliant conversationalist in the world. Don't argue. Don't cry. Don't talk about how many millionaires you could have married. Don't be catty. And heaven will reward your efforts.

After all, it isn't so hard to get a husband if you know how.

LEFT SHANGHAI DEAD BROKE

No Business Recovery There in 10 Years, Says C. Whitehead of Vancouver

"Jingling his keys with a few coins in his pocket, Charles Whitehead, radio store operator of Shanghai and resident of Vancouver, arrived here by the Empress of Asia this morning, flat broke and ready to start all over again.
"There's no business in Shanghai and there won't be for a long time," said Mr. Whitehead. "If the war ended tomorrow it would be 10 years before Shanghai recovers."

"I sold out my radio business for $600 Mex. waded the city good-bye and nags the Shanghai Maru for Nagasaki to make connections with the Empress of Asia. Even the big business interests in Shanghai have been badly hit with the 'go-downs' on the waterfront completely destroyed by shelling and flames."
Every able-bodied man was required to serve in the Shanghai Volunteer Corps for the defence of the International Settlement and Mr. Whitehead was called upon and was a ringside spectator of the aerial bombing of Shanghai and the subsequent military operations on the borders of the city.

At the height of the carnage Mr. Whitehead was in the observatory tower on the roof of the Metropole Hotel.

It was difficult, he said, to realize the appalling destruction in Shanghai.
"Half the city has been destroyed, with the native sections completely razed," he said. "In Nantao, the native city, there is not a building left standing."

The next three runners-up were as follows: Mrs. R. Fowles and J. Wells, fourth with a score of 180; Miss B. Pollock and K. Ramsley, fifth with a score of 177. The Misses V. Martin and V. Freeman tied for sixth place, with Miss H. Sharpe and J. Atkins with a score of 175.

The hidden score of 144 was won by Miss B. Morrison and her partner, C. McBride, with a score of 143.

Cups will be presented to the winners of first and second place at the Civil Service Badminton Club dance which will be held shortly.

DOWN THE GANGWAY

Empress of Asia in Port Today From Orient With Light Passenger List—Passenger Tells of Service With Shanghai Volunteer Defense Force—B.C. Nurses Send Message From Shanghai—Out of the Trenches by Christmas, Say Japanese.

With but 17 passengers in her first class accommodation, 69 tourist class and 54 Orientals in the steerage, R.M.S. Empress of Asia, Capt. G. Gould, docked at Pier 2, Rithet docks, at 9 this morning from China and Japan.

There were a number of refugees from the war zone in the ship's tourist class. After serving with the Shanghai Volunteer Defense Corps in the International Settlement, Wilfrid B. More, son of Seta More, C.P.R. Chinese passenger agent, reached here by the Empress en route to Vancouver. His sister reached here by the previous C.P.R. liner, the Empress of Japan, after doing her bit in the war by making gas masks at Shanghai.

The settlement defence corps, said Mr. More, was 2,000 strong, efficient and well-armed. The corps did excellent work in the maintenance of order during the fighting in and around Shanghai between the Chinese and Japanese troops.

NURSES FED UP

"We are all well, but fed up with the war," was the message brought from British Columbia nurses in Shanghai by G. J. Turnbull of the Shanghai Municipal Council, who reached Victoria this morning aboard the Empress of Asia.

The nurses are the Misses Lavinia Williams of Powell River; Dorothy McTier of Winnipeg; and Helen Marsh of Vancouver, all of whom are on the staff of the Shanghai Municipal Council, and engaged in nursing the wounded at the scene of the Chinese hostilities.

"They are very confident, and figure they will have the Chinese beaten by Christmas," said G. Morris, British businessman who arrived today by the inbound C.P.R. liner. The Japanese, he said, display the greatest enthusiasm over the war and assemble in great crowds to cheer departing soldiers en route to the Chinese theatre.

The people in Japan, however, know little of what is going on in China, outside of what the Tokyo propaganda department want them to know. Mr. Morris is returning direct to London and will sail November 6 by the Empress of Britain for Southampton.

Returning to England after delivering the Ss. Coaly to buyers in the Orient, Capt. J. M. Isaacson and a group of officers reached Victoria by the Asia this morning and went on to Vancouver.

Dr. F. H. Judd, identified with the China Island Mission hospital at Chefoo, reached here with his wife today. They are en route to England.
Other missionaries who crossed the Pacific aboard the Asia were Dr. R. B. Price, Dr. N. C. Patterson, connected with the Southern Presbyterian mission at Sutsen, accompanied by his wife and their three children, and Mrs. H. Bryan and two children, also from the Presbyterian mission at Chefoo.

Other travelers on the Asia were: Father B. Bitter, professor of Sophia University at Tokyo; Charles O. Brown, connected with the Cyanamick Company of New York, returning from a business trip to the Orient; W. A. de Havilland, patient attorney of Tokyo; B. E. Kann, director of B. D. Kann & Company, importers and exporters, en route to New York; C. H. Perkins, representative of the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, with his wife and son, bound from Manila to the United States, and Capt. E. N. Sanguinetti, of the Chinese Maritime Customs.

MORE CHARTER ACTIVITY SEEN

U.S. Ships Fixed Following Advance in Ocean Freight Rates

SEATTLE—Four more American ships have been called into foreign trade by the recent advance in ocean freight rates and a scarcity of ship tonnage.

The vessels are the McCormick freighters Sidney M. Hauptman and Charles R. McCormick, the Alaska Steamship Company's freighter Oduna and the freighter Everett, due in Seattle from Baltimore tonight to the Girwood Shipping Company.

Sidney M. Hauptman and Charles R. McCormick have been taken by the Bulk Carriers Corporation, November and December loading, in the Pacific Northwest for Hamburg-Bordeaux range, with redelivery north of Hatteras.

Oduna also has been chartered by the Bulk Carriers Corporation. She will load 4,500 tons of wheat in Portland for Callao, Peru, mid-November. The vessel arrived in Seattle yesterday from Alaska. She will be drydocked before going to Portland. A deckload of lumber will be taken by the vessel.

Everett has been chartered by the Anglo-Canadian Shipping Company, delivery November 8, to load wheat and lumber in Seattle and British Columbia for Hull.

Chartering of the Sidney M. Hauptman, Charles R. McCormick, Oduna and Everett makes a total of 14 American ships taken recently for foreign trade. Panamanian motorship Sammoan, sold recently by Flood Brothers to Odd Godager of Oslo, has been changed to Norwegian registry and renamed the Norse Lady. The vessel is due in Port Gamble Tuesday to load for the South Seas. She is the former motorship Silverspruce.

Mexican freighter Sonora has been chartered for a voyage from Vancouver to Suva with redelivery at a southern California port.
McCormick freighter H. F. McCormick, a former coastwise carrier, was recently sent to Shanghai and then from Seattle to New York. It is returning with a full cargo of sulphur loaded in Galeston for the Columbia River, Grays Harbor and Puget Sound.

INQUIRE INTO SHIP STRIKES

U.S. Senate Committee to Investigate Communist Influence Aboard Vessels

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Copeland (Dem. N.Y.), of the Senate Commerce Committee, took preliminary steps Saturday toward an investigation of what he called "communist influences" at work on United States ships.

He ordered the committee's staff to collect all information available on labor disputes aboard American Merchant Marine ships, including the strike of seamen on the Alge during a South American cruise.

The Alge strike was "mutiny," Copeland asserted. He declared it was one of the many incidents in which crews had refused to obey orders as a result of labor disputes.

Cat Occupies Whole Cabin

Siamese Feline Travels in Style to Panama City, Chaperoned by Ship's Butcher

NEW YORK (AP)—As sole occupant of a first class stateroom and bath, Prince Rahula and his nine lives sailed aboard Ss. Virginia Saturday on his way to Panama City.

Chaperoning the prince was the ship's butcher, selected from the whole crew to see that the cat get his raw liver and warm milk regularly; for the prince, being the scion of a royal line of Siamese cats, is very particular about his diet.

Louis Frith of Bar Harbor, Me., shipped the cat to Mrs. Charles A. Latham of Panama City.

BABY HERE AS REFUGEE

Three-months-old Elaine Buuck Youngest to Be Evacuated From China

Blue-eyed Baby Elaine Buuck, three-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Buuck of Wanhsein, Szechwan Province, the youngest refugee evacuated from China, who reached Victoria today by the Empress of Asia, was the least unconcerned of the family when fleeing from the bombing of Hankow and Canton by raiding Japanese airmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Buuck are Evangelical Lutheran missionaries who were forced to leave Szechwan by the war and are en route to their home in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Their other child, Leonard, four-and-a-half years, thought it a great adventure.
Husband and wife were separated on their journey out from Wanhsein, Mrs. Buuck and her two children traveling by steamer down the Yangtze to Hankow, from where they flew to Canton.

They just missed the bombing of Hankow.
"We left Hankow the afternoon previous to the bombing of the city, and we had only just got through when Canton was bombed," said Mrs. Buuck.

"We had a difficult time getting out and we are glad to be away from it all... it was terrible."
The Buucks left the Empress of Asia here and are proceeding by the 4.30 boat to Seattle, en route to Fort Wayne.

"There is so little we can do in the China missions under the conditions prevailing there," said Mr. Buuck, "I do not know when or whether I shall go back."

Bennett Says Inquiry Mistake

Conservative Leader Disagrees With Dominion-Provincial Commission

VANCOUVER (CP)—Addressing a Conservative Party rally here Saturday evening, R. Hon. R. B. Bennett, voiced criticism of what he described as the "undemocratic" procedure of the government of Prime Minister King in naming a committee of five men to review present Dominion-provincial relations. Instead of referring the matter to the various provincial governments for their opinions and advice.

"What value are the recommendations, the opinions of five irresponsible, in the governing of the 11,000,000 people in Canada," he asked.

"Dominion-provincial relations are not a matter for judges, for the responsibilities and powers of the various governing bodies are clearly defined in the British North American Act."

"Instead, they are a political matter, and always have been. 'No amendment of our constitution can be made except by the Parliament of Westminster, for the Statute of Westminster makes especial provision for that."

"Westminster will only act on the request of the Dominion Government. Unless that government intends to force amendments through without consulting the provinces, the Royal Commission's recommendations will have to be submitted to the respective provincial legislatures for their approval."

"If they turn down the recommendations, what will happen then?"

Mr. Bennett did not answer the question he had posed. Then he asked two more.
"Did you give the Dominion Government a mandate to name the commission? What is your legislature for?"

TRAFFIC QUESTION

At the annual meeting of the executive of the B.C. Conservative Association at New Westminster Saturday afternoon, Mr. Bennett urged the delegates to consider the tariff question and later they considered it referred to lose the preferential agreement with Great Britain, "as you may have to do it if the Liberal government at Ottawa continues on its present course."

"We can only give employment to the thousands now without work by sensible development of our natural resources," the former Prime Minister said.

"And we can not develop our resources adequately unless we apply tariffs to give our people a fair show against workers in other countries."

"The United States will not be happy until they get an ingress to the British market in terms of free entry," he said. "You'd better keep your eyes on the government at Ottawa."

Mr. Bennett appealed to the meeting for support for Great Britain's rearmament programme.

SALE OF RESOURCES

During its meeting the association adopted a recommendation from the resolutions committee, headed by Hon. Grote Stirling, referring to Dr. Frank Patterson, M.P.P., provincial Conservative leader, a resolution protesting the sale of British Columbia natural resources to foreign interests.

Dr. Patterson, provincial party leader, was asked to consider the resolution as part of the Conservative policy.
The resolution did not refer definitely to nationals of any individual nation. Delegates said later they considered it referred primarily to sales of timber stands on the Queen Charlotte Islands to Japanese interests, and to Japanese development of mineral deposits throughout the province, especially iron.

Baby to Share In Sloan Estate

VANCOUVER (CP)—In a decision handed down in the B.C. Supreme Court Saturday, Mr. Justice Manson decreed Frances Davida, 23-months-old posthumous daughter of the late David Sloan, managing director of Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia Ltd., will share equally with her mother, two brothers and sister, the $1,000,000 estate of her father.

Mr. Sloan was one of four victims of a plane crash at Alta Lake August 4, 1935.

In support of his construction of the will, Mr. Justice Manson pointed out that evidence showed Sloan discussed making a new will after he had learned of the expected child.
